PROBE DEATH OF BABE RUTH'S ESTRANGED WIFE

WILL SUGGESTS WE JOIN LEAGUE FOR PROHIBITION'S SAKE

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. — I see where we sent a delegation up to Canada to ask them if they wouldn't prohibit liquor from being sent out of their country, but our committee is coming back empty-handed with the exception of just what little they can carry.

Canada told them: "If it is against your law to bring it in and then you can't stop it from coming in, how are we going to keep it from going out when it's not even against our law?"

We will have to get into the League of Nations after awhile, just to get other nations to help us take care of our own business.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

These individuals who have been appealing for a touch of old fashioned winter, should be satisfied today. Reports from various parts of the county indicate that the thermometer got down as far as 11 below zero at some sections of the county. And in some places in the county, it felt even much colder.

Following the visitation campaign conducted last week, special services are being held this week in a number of New Castle churches, preparatory to receiving new members on next Sunday. It is expected that some hundreds of new members will be taken into churches here on next Sunday.

While the weather conditions are frigid, there is no blocking of highways in Lawrence county. Not enough snow fell to cause any disrupting of traffic.

This morning the galoshes, overshoes, felt boots and shoe coverlets of every nature were out. Even spats took their place among the men. Pa Newc has noticed that the majority thus far in the winter have not resorted to the good old artics, et cetera but this morning it was a different story.

Well, the weather yes men are at it again. You know, those people who greet you every day of the year with a weather comment. The old greeting, "hot enuf fur ya," has been changed to, "well, cold, ain't it?," or some such icy epithet.

Librarians are giving vent to their thanks today at the public library because they have a new furnace boiler installed. Prior to the installation of the boiler the library was too cold for comfort. The old boiler would have been in "fine shape" for this morning.

Pa Newc is of the opinion that a great majority of the radio owners here heard the speech that President-elect Herbert Hoover delivered last Saturday night. On his way home, as he passed house after house, young Pa Newc heard Hoover's voluminous voice coming from the loud speakers. For a distance of one block Pa understood what Hoover was saying, but then came a street corner and a break. A few more houses and he was home. Each house in that one block had a radio, and each fan had set the dials so Hoover could be heard.

Estranged Wife Of Babe Ruth Is Victim Of Fire

Brothers Of Dead Woman Demand Thorough Investigation Into Fatal Blaze

DOPE ANGLE IS FORWARDED TODAY

Wife Of Famous Slugger Is Found Dead In Smoke Filled Room

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 14.—Despite the official announcement that the estranged wife of George Herman (Babe) Ruth met her death by accident when flames swept the Watertown home of Dr. Edward H. Kinder, Back Bay dentist, her two brothers today demanded a more complete investigation.

"I have reason to believe that Mrs. Ruth was the victim of foul play and that the police have not all the facts behind the death of my sister, declared Thomas P. Woodford, a former policeman, brother of the wife of baseball's home run king.

"I'm not content with the report that Mrs. Ruth went to sleep in the Kinder house and that everyone went out and left her alone there, although she was a guest in their house and during their absence the house, a new one, suddenly flared up. I want the truth, no matter who it hits," he said.

Telephone Ringing

The telephone was ringing persistently when Mrs. Ruth was being picked up in the flame-swept bedroom in the home of Dr. Kinder, according to a statement today by Captain John J. Kelley of the Watertown fire department. Mrs. Ruth was trapped in the room. There was a hole in one side of the bed. Captain Kelley thought Mrs. Ruth was in a chair wrapped in bed clothes and had pitched forward, for she was found on the floor in her night dress.

Mrs. Ruth always entertained a dread of flames, close friends said today. A fire item in a newspaper was the biggest news to her and she always remarked that burning was a terrible way to die.

Drug charges were brought into the case by another brother, William J. Woodford, who arrived from New York today to interview authorities and demand a complete probe of his sister's death. "For a long time moth-

Legislature To Convene Tonight In Harrisburg

Recess Of Two Weeks Over, State Legislators Return To Take Up Work

MANY APPOINTMENTS TO BE ANNOUNCED

Formal Sessions Of 1929 Legislature Will Get Under Way At 9 O'clock Tonight

By C. B. YORKE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—Following a recess of two weeks, during which state Republican leaders have been occupied with the problems of committee appointments, the formal sessions of the 1929 legislature begin tonight at nine o'clock.

Announcement of selections for committee chairman will be the most important business coming before the session this evening. The House slate committee has practically completed its work, while the slate committee of the Senate will meet at seven o'clock tonight to complete its task of filling several dozen patronage posts.

Many Appointments

Appointment to approximately 200 posts, including those of messengers, pages, custodians, clerks, typists and stenographers, will be announced by the slate committees. Of the 32 committees in the Senate about seven will have new chairmen, while in the House approximately 15 of the 42 committee chairmanships will be new.

"Bridge Of Sighs" To Connect Court Room With Library

Commissioners To Provide Plan To Eliminate Interruptions In Courtroom No. 1

Enclosed Walk To Cross From One Wing Of Courthouse To Another

In place of a new courthouse, which has been recommended by grand juries for many years back, Lawrence county is to have a "bridge of sighs", which will connect courtroom No. 2 with the law library. It is figured that with this "bridge of sighs" built and in good running order the county will be able to get along "for another hundred years" without a new courthouse.

The "bridge of sighs" will be erected on the south side of main courtroom No. 1. There are two wings to the courthouse on that side, one being the new portion, containing courtroom No. 2 and the other being the portion of the original courthouse now occupied as a law library.

Will Be Enclosed Walk

It is proposed to connect courtroom No. 2 and the law library with a "bridge of sighs" about six feet wide. It will be simply an enclosed walk, supported by beams on a level with

Swick Appeals For Postoffice Work This Year

Congressman Urges Immediate Action Be Taken In New Castle

NO DECISION YET BY COMMITTEE

Expect That Announcement Will Be Made January 15 Of Program

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Washington Correspondent for The News

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Congressman J. Howard Swick appeared before the joint building committee of the treasury and post office departments Friday afternoon and appealed to that committee to include the New Castle post office in the present year of the federal five year building program. The congressman also submitted to the committee a report of postal activities of the New Castle office compiled by Postmaster Crawford.

Following the committee meeting, Congressman Swick stated that he could make no prophecy whether New Castle would be continued in the construction program for the present year. He said that the committee described the report written by Postmaster Crawford as a very good report but that he was not given to understand whether New Castle would be cared for this year.

The committee will announce its decision January 15.

Two of eight cities in Pennsylvania will be included in the program for this year, and Congressman Swick requested the committee to select New Castle as one of these two cities.

New Castle is assured of a new post office or of a post office addition under the provisions of the federal five year building program, but because of the congested conditions now exist-

COLDEST PERIOD OF PRESENT WINTER

Tonight May Not Be So Cold Says Weather Forecaster At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

King Winter waved his icy sceptre over western Pennsylvania today and the region lay in the grip of the coldest weather of the winter.

The bottom dropped out of the thermometer in Venango county, where Clintonville and Hampton Station reported 12 below zero. Cities throughout the region reported bitter cold, and telegraph and telephone facilities were crippled.

River Frozen Over

At Pittsburgh the Monongahela river was frozen over for the first time within the memory of many residents, while Mt. Lebanon, a suburb reported eight degrees below zero.

The colder part of the siege has passed for the present, however, in the opinion of federal weather forecasters at Pittsburgh. Tonight may not be so cold.

Kane reported an official reading of 15 below zero at five a. m., the coldest of the winter.

In Lawrence county reports show from five to 11 below.

New Castle Woman Is Guest At White House Reception; Writes Her Impressions

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Arthur C. Wimer, formerly Miss Mildred Elizabeth Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hill of North Mulberry street, was a guest of the President and Mrs. Coolidge at the congressional reception given in the White House last Thursday evening. Mrs. Wimer, who is the wife of Arthur C. Wimer, Washington correspondent of The News, has written the following picture of the reception given by the President and the First Lady in honor of the members of Congress:

In approaching the White House on Thursday evening, the first inkling one received of anything unusual in the executive mansion was the congested traffic. Long lines of automobiles moved slowly down broad old Pennsylvania avenue in front of the home of the President and Mrs Coolidge, awaiting the opportunity to turn into the east entrance of the White House grounds where guests of the reception were admitted.

Inside the Pennsylvania avenue mansion all was gay brilliancy, with the pastel shades of feminine evening gowns glowing warmly against the background of the more sober black and white tones of masculine evening wear. But not all the gentlemen guests were in evening attire, for many and varied were the bright hues of the uniforms of White House

It used to be in the days of old that the women would dress for the weather, but not in these modern days, not at all, its changing things altogether. Instead of hose that were made of wool, they are wearing stuff sheer and flimsy, which only proves in a definite way, the feminine brand of whimsy. They step outside when the weather is cold, dressed like a day in July, while in August I notice they change it around and carry their neckpiece high. I don't pretend what the answer is, nor how they all get that way, I only know that it's mighty strange, its sixteen above, mighty cold today.

Actual Letters From Col. Daniel Leasure Give Insight Into Civil War Activity; First Of Series Is Presented In This Issue

Over a paper littered desk in a dirty little office a short, stout man bent. In his pudgy hand he grasped a pen; in his almost undecipherable scrawl he was writing one of the most important proclamations ever made by a private citizen of the United States. His eyes were not more than 12 inches from the sheet on which he was writing, and he squinted abominably thru his thick gold rimmed spectacles.

"The Nation's War Cry. Forward to Richmond! The Rebel Congress must not be allowed to meet there on the 20th of July! By that date the place must be held by the national army."

Horace Greely, editor of the mighty New York Tribune, more than any one else, directly responsible for the nomination and election of Abraham Lincoln to the presidency of the United States, was definitely leaving the ranks of the pacifists. One of America's most brilliant literary communists, one of the sponsors of the Brook Farm experiment, and one who but a short time before had advocated "peace at any price," had now definitely joined with the preservers of the Union.

"I do not care if they do," he had written in his paper but a short time before, when discussing the secession of the southern states. "If the cotton states decide that they can do better out of the Union than in it, we insist on letting them go in peace. The right to secede may be revolutionary, but nevertheless it exists."

It was in a high fettle that Greely now threw himself with those who were determined to save the Union, even though it meant the shedding of blood; even though it might mean that brother would fight against brother and father against son. But he did not know that the proclamation that he carried in his Tribune, just under his editorial masthead would bring about the first battle of Bull Run.

Two months before Greely left the pacifists and joined definitely the ranks of the militant abolitionists and Union men, it was reported that Fort Sumter in the harbor of Charleston, S. C., was unprovisioned. There was danger of being starved out. The actual bombardment had started on April 12, 1861, little more than a month after Abraham Lincoln had been sworn in as president of the United States of America. Theatrical as the bombardment was: thousands of shells curving over the city: houses trembling with the thunder of the guns, that night it was proclaimed in Charleston as the first victory of the second American Revolution. People were hysterical, singing and shouting through the streets. Major Anderson, who struck the Union flag at sun down, was rowed over to Confederate headquarters to have dinner with General Beauregard.

Just how it would be possible for the North to lose the second American Revolution, the nice minded Mr. Greely could not see. On a large sheet of paper, in that hand which was the bane of all his type-setters, he had figures set down and those figures proved to him many things. Nine million people, one-third of whom were slaves, faced 22,000,000 people, nearly all white. Practically all of the iron, steel, textile and munition industries in the country were

Three Are Hurt, One Seriously As Pennsy Limited Strikes Truck At Crossing

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—Three men were injured, one seriously, when the Manhattan Limited, Pennsylvania railroad, crashed into an automobile truck at the Chestnut street crossing, Sewickley, this morning.

The Limited, proceeding west at a high rate of speed, struck the truck with such force that not only was the truck demolished, but it was necessary to replace the locomotive. No one on the train was injured, according to the Pennsylvania railroad.

NEW CASTLE WOMAN IS GUEST AT WHITE HOUSE RECEPTION

aids and military and naval guests present.

Await President

When the guests of the evening entered the executive mansion they were relieved of wraps and then formed into lines to await the arrival of the President and Mrs. Coolidge.

They formed chatty, radiant groups, with here and there such celebrities as Senator Curtis and Secretary of State Kellogg or Vice President Dawes and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon drawing off into a corner for a moment to engage in a serious bit of conversation.

Exactly at nine o'clock the President and Mrs. Coolidge appeared at the head of the wide staircase leading from the private quarters on the second floor of the White House to the entrance of the blue room. The President had a broad smile on his face and the First Lady was beaming with her usual good nature as she came down the stairs with the chief executive.

Pretty Gown

Many people thought the gown Mrs. Coolidge was wearing was the prettiest and most becoming she has ever worn at a White House reception. It was gold and white brocade, trimmed in gold lace, with a lovely long double train of the brocade.

At the bottom of the stairs the President and Mrs. Coolidge halted and began the process of meeting and shaking hands with the guests. When the reception was about two-thirds over and the President and Mrs. Coolidge had shaken hands with over 1,000 persons, they elected to sit down and rest. That's the first time that ever happened at a state function, old-time residents of Washington say.

After the guests of the evening had met the President and Mrs. Coolidge they wandered about through the blue room, chattingand laughing, pausing now and then to greet friends or to receive introductions.

Altogether, it was a colorful, gay and happy throng of statesmen, diplomats, army and navy officers and special guests.

"BRIDGE OF SIGHS" TO CONNECT COURT ROM WITH LIBRARY

the floors of the two rooms to be connected. The room will come under the windows of the old courthouse, so that the "bridge of sighs" will be about eight feet high and around 30 feet long. As it will close up windows on the south side of courtroom No. 1, the south side of the bridge will be mostly glass, which will admit plenty of light.

As the courtrooms are now constituted it is necessary to go through courtroom No. 1 to get into No. 2. When a case is on trial in No. 1 there are always many interruptions caused by jurors, witnesses, attorneys, spectators and prisoners going through courtroom No. 1. Then attorneys must run back through No. 1 every time they want law books, and the juries must be brought out through courtroom No. 1. These all cause interruptions in the trial of cases.

With the "bridge of sighs" completed all this travel through courtroom No. 1 will be avoided. The county commissioners expect within a short time to start work on the improvement, which it is believed can be made at a very reasonable expense.

Some time ago there was a project on foot to erect an addition to the courthouse on the south side, but it was found that it would cost too much money, especially when there was talk of building a new courthouse. In view of the heavy expenditures which the county has been called upon to make for roads, bridges and the poor farm in recent years, it looks as though a new courthouse is not likely to be built for some years to come.

er and the girls (Mrs. Ruth's sisters) and I had wondered what was the matter with her, but now I guess I have the key in the words she once said to me, 'I've found a swell doctor who will give me opium tablets.'"

To Question Doctor

Chief of Police John Millmore of Watertown admitted that he was waiting for Dr. Kinder to come forward for questioning about several features of this affair.

William F. Kinder, the father of Dr. Kinder, said his son was in seclusion with his attorney "not far from Boston—simply taking a rest." The father and his other son, William F. Kinder Jr., assert that Dr. Kinder and Mrs. Ruth were married a year ago.

The elder Kinder branded foul play theories "a pack of lies".

State Detective Edward P. O'Neil said:

"There was no evidence that a crime had been committed. Unless further information comes to our attention the matter is closed as far as we are concerned."

O'Neil is in charge of the investigation for District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell of Middlesex county. Commenting on the statement, the district attorney said:

"The statement was issued with my approval. We are not interested in digging up scandal about or inquiring into the life of a dead woman who cannot speak for herself."

No Marks of Violence

The autopsy finding by Dr. George L. West, medical examiner, was that death was due to "suffocation and incineration."

"There was nothing about the body that is inconsistent with death in a burning building," he declared, adding that there were no marks of violence on the body and nothing to indicate that death was caused by anything but the cases he enumerated.

In view of the medical examiner's report, Chief of Police Millmore of Watertown said that no further police action would be taken until Dr. Kinder is again interviewed. He was last seen in Watertown on Saturday morning, the morning after the fatal fire.

Arrangements for the funeral of Mrs. Ruth were being made by Ruth and the victim's two sisters, Miss Nora and Catherine Woodford. The body was prepared for removal from a Newton funeral parlor, where it was identified by the sisters, to the home of Mrs. Ruth's mother in South Boston. The mother was in a state of collapse. The funeral will be held from the South Boston home on Wednesday. Interment will be in New Cavalry cemetery.

Probe is Ordered

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—Investigation into the tragic death of Mrs. George Herman "Babe" Ruth was reopened this afternoon on order of District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell of Middlesex county.

"I have ordered a full and complete investigation of the contents of the stomach," said the district attorney.

The action by District Attorney Bushnell followed a telephone call from Medical Examiner Dr. George L. West.

The majority of the chairmen of committees in the 1927 session will be retained.

The chairmanship of the powerful House appropriations committee was generally understood to have gone to C. J. Goodnough of Emporium, speaker of the House during the 1923 session. Before the state leaders met in Philadelphia last week it was believed that this post would be filled by William F. Stadtlander of Pittsburgh, but unexpected opposition to this appointment developed when W. L. Mellon and Senator Max G. Leslie could not agree on an Allegheny county member.

Grundy Enfluenzed Move

The selection of Goodnough as head of the House Appropriations committee was believed to have been influenced by Joseph T. Grundy, of Bristol, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers association.

Reconvening of the legislature follows the formal opening session of January 1 when both houses were organized and Governor Fisher made known his recommendations in his biennial message. It is probable that the session tonight will last not more than an hour, being devoted almost entirely to announcement of committee appointments.

Bills Up Tuesday

A resolution setting tomorrow as the first day to introduce bills was also expected to be approved tonight. More than 800 bills have been prepared for introduction. Although Governor Fisher recommended that no additional roads be added to the building program until the Department of Highways has completed the present construction program, at least 100 of these bills deal with approximately 800 miles of further construction.

The legislature will again meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow, the hour of convening having been advanced from 11 a. m. By a resolution adopted at the opening session of New Year's day. When the assembly adjourns tomorrow the recess will probably continue until next Monday to allow the various committees to begin work on the mass of bills.

One of the first duties facing the Senate is the ratification of about 550 appointments which Governor Fisher submitted at the opening session. Among the appointments to be ratified are those of Brig. Gen. Edward Martin in the National Guard and Walter H. Glasgow, state secretary of mines.

which he always carried was missing, and there was no money in his pockets. The only identification found on him was the address of a girl friend in Painesville, Ohio. A message of the details of his death was sent to her and she later communicated with his parents here.

Mr. Speer had been an employe of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad but had been furloughed recently. It is thought that he might have been looking for work when struck by the train.

The sudden and unexpected death of the young man is a terrible blow to his parents and immediate family. He was a member of the Reformed Presbyterian church of this city and was one of the prominent and well known young men of the community.

Besides his parents Mr. Speer leaves the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Leona Patterson, of Englewood, Cal.; Kenneth, Alberta, Hugh and Harold, at home. His brother, Kenneth, is now recovering from injuries sustained in an auto accident about two months ago.

The body will lie in state in the Mahoning funeral parlors until 2 p. m. on Tuesday. Funeral services will be conducted from the Reformed Presbyterian church, Oak and Pine streets, Tuesday, January 15 at 2:30 p. m. with the pastor, Dr. E. A. Crooks, officiating. Burial will be made in Neshannock cemetery.

THREE MURDERERS ARE EXECUTED AT ROCKVIEW TODAY

murder of the assistant manager of a Philadelphia theater in a holdup attempt.

Lucitti, the first to cross the gray prison corridor to the death chamber, was attended by Rev. Ather McCreese, prison chaplain. The slayer of Louis O. Knapp and Paul R. Fox, Vesta Coal company police required only one contact to snuff out his life.

His body was wheeled into an anteroom, and Danarowicz followed, attended by the same priest, and then the Cross Keys theater killer came, grimly silent as were his two predecessors. The same priest attended all, and prison physician H. L. Hickok pronounced each dead after a lone contact.

Two Bodies Claimed

The bodies of Lucitti and Mellor were claimed by Bellefonte undertakers for relatives, but no one called for Danarowicz's remains.

Lucitti, gunman and bootlegger was alleged to have shot the two officers rather than be arrested for bootlegging. He escaped, but an alleged accomplice, Roy Wenrich was arrested and later sentenced to life imprisonment. Lucitti fled to New York, where he later was sentenced to Westchester county prison for one year, but escaped. Shot in a gun fight in Elizabeth, N. J., the killer believed himself to be dying, and confessed the Washington county murders. He was promptly returned and convicted.

Danarowicz paid with his life for the murder of his second wife, Catherine, in their home in Philadelphia the night of April 13, 1923. He fled the city following the shooting and was arrested in Detroit three weeks later.

In an attempted holdup of the Cross Keyes theatre, Philadelphia, Mellor shot and killed Max T. Harrison, assistant manager, when the latter attempted to halt his escape.

End Colds Quickly To Avoid Needless Risk of The "Flu"

AVOIDS ILLNESS BY ENDING COLD QUICKLY!

Many Here Get Relief by Quick Method Doctors Advise Instead of Lowering Resistance to "Flu" and Pneumonia by Neglecting to End Colds Promptly

Realizing the danger of neglecting colds at a time when "flu" is spreading over this section, doctors are now advising home use of a hospital certified method to end colds quickly. And numbers of people here have been happy to find that freedom from head or chest colds is the best possible protection against "flu."

BRONCHIAL COUGH SOON CLEARED UP

Neglecting a cold is sure to cause needless misery and may weaken resistance to pneumonia or "flu." So numbers of New Castle people are using in their homes the pleasant hospital treatment doctors now advise.

The case of R. L. Stokes is typical of many here. He had neglected a bronchial cough until it became so bad he couldn't breathe freely. Finally breathing became so difficult he called his doctor, who advised double strength treatment with Ayer's Pectoral—a concentrated medication of ingredients which hospitals have found to be the quickest and surest to clear up the breathing passages.

He felt the welcome relief in just a few minutes after the first pleasant dose. Congestion began to disappear and by night he felt like a different person. In another day or so, the doctor reports, examination showed no indication left of the cold.

Note: See other cases—all certified by the attending physician.

Head Cold Ended By Home Use of Hospital Method

Gordon C. McLeod is still another who has found that prompt relief is far preferable to the risk one takes by neglecting colds while "flu" is prevalent. And he is now glad that his doctor prescribed Ayer's Pectoral when the cold started spreading.

Within an hour or so the medication of wild cherry, terpin hydrate, etc., had been absorbed by his system, loosening up the congestion. By night his temperature was normal, he slept comfortably and woke up feeling greatly refreshed. In another day or so, the report continues his air passages had completely cleared up and he had overcome the cold without the usual loss of strength or vitality.

Pleasant To Use—Ended Chest Cold

As is typical of so many people, Miss Vivian Boyd neglected her cold in the hope it would "cure itself" without treatment. Instead, it grew worse. In two days the congestion made her feel so miserable that she called her doctor, who prescribed double strength doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral—a hospital certified formula composed of wild cherry, terpin hydrate and other ingredients to help allay fever, clear up congestion and drive out the cold.

Relief began immediately, when she felt its soothing, healing warmth—from her nose passages deep down into her chest. Within an hour or so the medication had been absorbed by her system, loosening up congestion and relieving the "achy" feeling. By night her fever was less; she slept comfortably and woke up feeling like a different person. In another day or so, the doctor reports, congestion and fever were all gone and there was no trace left of the cold.

Note: See other cases—all certified by the attending physician.

CALLED DOCTOR WHEN COLD BECAME SERIOUS

Threatening colds, which so frequently lead to serious illness, can now be relieved instantly and often completely ended in just a few hours by the hospital certified method now used so extensively in New Castle homes.

Mrs. Bruce W. Durgan, for example, was kept awake all night by a chest cold which gave her severe thoracis pains. Next day an examination by the doctor showed a pulse of 86, respiration 20 and temperature 100°.

Within a short while after the doctor prescribed double strength doses of Ayer's Pectoral the cold started to clear up rapidly. That night she slept comfortably and woke up feeling greatly relieved. When the doctor returned for examination her temperature, pulse and respiration were normal again and the cold had cleared up completely.

Speed of Relief Important To Avoid Danger of a Cold

Colds may not appear serious when they first start. And they need not become serious if you end them quickly—before serious illness has time to set in.

But delay always makes a cold last longer! Often it increases pneumonia risk.

Why take this needless risk? You have everything to lose and nothing to gain by delay. Ayer's Pectoral gives almost instant relief—then quickly drives out every trace of the cold. This hospital certified remedy is pleasant to take, prescribed by physicians for home use and can be had at the nearest drug store.

STABILIZING EMPLOYMENT

A METHOD of carrying on public works during times of depression, when they would give employment to labor not needed in other activities and serve as a cushion to minimize the effects of industrial slackness, is so desirable that it would not need urging if practicable ways to put it into effect could be formulated.

The federal government, which expends many millions on public works and is assured of reasonably steady support for them, could be guilded, it would seem, by some such purpose. But the trouble with undertaking it in cities and states is that they are constantly pushed for means with which to do things for which there is immediate demand. Another difficulty is found in the hesitancy of voters to tax themselves for funds without knowing the use to which they are to be put or where they are to be expended.

When the city of Detroit sought to adopt such a plan about a year ago the voters rejected it because they wanted to keep their hands on public improvement funds and were unwilling to leave their disposition to the discretion of some future municipal administration.

The obstacles to the plan, as applied to municipal and state governments, are obvious, but it should not be dismissed as being wholly impractical. Prudence suggests that in whatever way and to whatever extent public undertakings can be utilized to soften hardships of unemployment and sustain business, it should be done.

HYPERTROPHISTS ALL

"HYPERTROPHY" is the name given by a university scientist to the disease which afflicts "any one who becomes fanatical in his love for a particular sport." He describes it as a growth.

This undoubtedly represents an advance in science, but it will not detract from the enthusiasm of a fan to know what ails him when he is shouting himself hoarse at a football game in which his team is winning. Neither will his calling it a disease cause golfers to trade their bags of clubs for a tennis outfit.

Devotion to a particular sport is almost a national characteristic of the American people. Hence, they must be a race of hypertrophists. That individual is rare who divides his love equally between two or more sports.

However, does it not follow naturally, logically and scientifically that those who devote themselves to a particular phase of literature, art, music, work or science are equally unbalanced? Those afflicted with a mania for one of the several branches of sport will suspect that the discoverer of hypertrophy was talking in self-defense or to ease his own mind when he concluded that the mental hypertrophists suffer fewer ill effects from the disease than do the physical hypertrophists. The former are, it may be said, delightfully unbalanced, while the latter are victims of corns, bunions, boils, sore throats, athletic hearts and Charley horses.

That new human malady, however, will not keep one of the millions of football enthusiasts away from Saturday's game and will not make organized baseball a losing business next season. Before that will come about the discoverer of hypertrophy will have to do some missionary work in those universities and colleges where compulsory physical training is deemed necessary to prevent mental hypertrophy.

EXPLORATION IN NORTHERN BRAZIL

ANNOUNCEMENT of the discovery of a vast fertile plateau on the border of Northern Brazil and the Guinanas by General Candido Rondon is dramatic notice of the renewed activities of Brazil's most famous explorer.

As Colonel Rondon he guided Theodore Roosevelt on his expedition down the River of Doubt, and Roosevelt would have gone with him northward from the Amazon by way of one or more of its tributaries if his serious illness from a malarial fever had not brought the enterprise to a sudden ending. It was Roosevelt's ambition to travel northward until he crossed the watershed somewhere along the borders of Venezuela or the Guianas and arrived at one of the seaports of those countries.

General Rondon is on his second important expedition to survey the wilderness of Northern Brazil, a vast area that is now almost a blank upon the maps. This region is being viewed as a potential supply base for food and raw materials for industrial use; and because of the high altitude which mitigates the tropic temperatures may in time attract European immigration in large numbers.

BOYS WHO WORK

SOCIETY, at least in America, has long since passed the stage in which it believes it economically or socially wise or necessary to exploit child labor. Employers of minors, as a general thing, support this national policy.

Useful employment, however, aids the development of child character. Frequently children have to contribute to their own support. Often a child would be better off if iccupied by suitable employment. Sometimes only through gainful employment—household tasks and farm chores being usually unrewarded and irksome—can habits of industry be taught.

Exploitation of child labor must be prevented to a certain degree. There must no longer be long hours in sweat shops for the immature. At the same time the right of children to work, or the right of their parents to place them at work of the proper kind, should not be violated.

Certainly there is much to be said in favor of boys worsing as store errand boys, messengers, newspaper carriers and chore boys as long as these occupations do not keep them out of school. These part-time jobs are never so arduous as to be physically injurious, and usually they help to build character and mental powers.

Little Money, Big Result.
Can You See 4 Dimensions?
Educating Amanullah.
The Young Witch Killer.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

With a little money you can do much these days. For instance, with only $260,000,000 a group in Wall Street, with J. P. Morgan's Company at the head, is planning a merger of corporations totalling to billions of dollars. One share in ten plus brains will control almost anything.

Even the Rockefeller family, according to official statement, has less than 15 per cent of the various Standard Oil companies.

The latest two-billion-dollar combination has to do with power, gas and public service corporations.

The time has gone by for crying your eyes out over big combinations.

If they promote efficiency and give the public a share of the savings, they are good for the public.

If not, console yourself with the thought that if the public is not intelligent enough to watch and control one big combination, it surely wouldn't have the intelligence to wat a dozen little combinations.

Einstein, considered by some the greatest mind in abstract mathematics since Newton, delivers to the Prussian Academy of Science a manuscript of five pages, dealing with the inter-relations between machanics and electro-dynamics.

This new contribution to science is expected to revolutionize man's conception of the universe.

Einstein devoted 10 years to writing the five pages, which present the universe as existing in four dimensions, instead of only three, lengths, breadth and thickness or depth. Science assures you that there is a fourth.

We can't feel or imagine that fourth dimension. The great French mathematician, Poincare, said that after ten years of incessant study a man MIGHT have a faint conception of it.

And of all men living, only one, a British mathematician, Hutton, is actually able to think in the realm of four dimensions.

Fortunately for us, three dimensional creatures, three dimensions are PLENTY.

And, perhaps, the four-dimension idea will go some day to join the once fully accepted "nebular hypothesis."

We know now that what science once called "nebulae," imaginary stuff out of which planets were made, are separate universes, each with its hundreds of millions of suns.

King Amanullah, of Afghanistan, discovered suddenly and violently what American prohibition enthusiasts are discovering slowly, that it isn't easy to change men's habits by proclamation or law.

Amanullah came back from his visit to England wearing European clothes, his wife fashionably dressed, short skirts, silk stockings, nothing to cover up her face.

He announced that women in Afghanistan were also to go with their faces uncovered, no more "seclusion."

Tribes rose against him, armed, drove him into a fortress.

King Amanullah changed his mind. Afghan girls sent to be educated in the modern way in Turkey are to come home. European dress is to be abolished. Soldiers of Afghanistan are to be allowed to follow and bow down to their religious leaders, the "Holymen," or Pirs, and women will be kept in seclusion.

All the suggested reforms will be thrown overboard. Wise Amanullah, he wanted peace.

The state of Pennsylvania demands that a jury pass sentence on a boy of 14, convicted of killing a witch or "Hex." The jury is told not to consider age, but the seriousness of the crime. The boy confessed and said he was helping to kill a witch because he thought he would see some interesting magic.

Also if they could get three hairs from the witch's head and bury them eight feet under ground, the witch's spell would be taken off them.

To have sent that boy to the electric chair, instead of somewhere to be properly fed and educated, would be worthy of the primitive witchcraft days.

The great Krupp gun factory thought is was ruined when it was ruined when the Allies wouldn't let it make any more cannon. It shows now profits of $10,000,000 a year. That and a drop in the Reichsbank rate, seem to confirm Mr. Gilbert's statement as to German prosperity and ability to pay.

American bankers," a rather loose term, are supposed to have decided not to buy the German bonds, thus supplying cash for the Allies. The sum would run to billions and there is no demand for so many German bonds here.

There ought not to be, considering the opportunities in American investments.

The Chinese, poor creatures, butchered, starved, forced into revolutions of which they do not know the meaning, know at least one thing, and that is, that is is important to have good roads.

Mr. G. Walter Reed, of the Sante Fe Railroad, quotes an engineer just back from China: "Food from South China cannot reach those starving in Northern China because of fifteen hundred impassable miles."

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:58. Sun rises tomorrow 7:20.

Henry Ford says a man who cannot think is not an educated man, no matter how many college degrees he may have acquired. We are like Henry and thinking once in a while for a human is the best thing he can do. We believe that only a few think.

We noticed an item where bank robbers locked the bank man and his wife both in the vault and went away. There was a telephone in the vault and the police were called at once. Having a telephone in a bank vault is a mighty good thing in our opinion.

A man in the central part of Pennsylvania filled up on moonshine and it effected him so he wanted to commit suicide so he put a lot of dynamite in his bed and set it off. He sure did make a mess of that bed.

A young intellectual usually outgrows it when he mixes with the crowd and discovers that other people are smart, too.

A lot of birds no matter how badly they want a job, they want something easy and dignified, such as wheeling daylight into the men on night turn or shoveling steam into the engine.

ONLY ONE BONELESS BRAND.

"I want" said the bride. "A piece of meat without fat, bone or gristle." The butcher carefully surveyed his stock. "You'd beter have an egg ma'am."

Will Rogers says the most looked forward to thing in the world is the green light. And that's no misstatement.

Some of the good friends of The Hints and Dints Man are still calling up to find out whether we are dead or sick. We would give a load of coal or something to find out who started that rumor. This is one time we can prove it was wrong.

We heard a lady say that the first few days after her husband gets his pay he's about as dependable as a hot water faucet in a country hotel.

We are betting that a great many farmers in Western Pennsylvania and Western Ohio will be mighty careful as to who they hire as farmhands the coming spring and summer. At least those who read the papers will.

"What has a mother in view when she spanks her disobedient child?" asked a professor in moral philosophy. And then he couldn't understand why the pupils looked at each other and smiled.

There are no two ways of doing things" commented the medical students who had performed an operation upon a patient who died.

Are you obeying the advice and instructions of prominet doctors to cut out kissing during the flu epidemic? Neither are we.

Most girls do not realize what uneventful lives they lead until thay scan the diary they kept the year before.

THE OLD MAID'S CATCH.

"Miss Oldun caught a burglar in her room and marrned him to reform him.'

"And did it work?"

"Well—at least it taught him to be more careful."

Ask and ye shall receive if you've got good security.

Mr. Hoover is a good listener we are told. He has learned from some other presidents that silence and listening is a good thing. There is one thing dead sure about people who do not talk much and that is one cannot find out how dumb they are.

Over in London some of the hifaltin ladies are having some of their toes cut off so they can wear smaller shoes. Yeow! Yeow!

An attempt is to be made soon to raise the salary of the governor of Pennsylvania from $18,000 to $20,000. The salaries of all judges and other officials both state and county will receive a boost if the law goes through. So far we haven't heard of any candidate for any office running because the salary was not big enough. When candidates get scarce is time enough to offer more reward for officeholders.

The Hints and Dints Man has received a letter signed "Movie Fan." While we agree with him on what he says we do not think it good policy to publish the letter. There are many things that are true which cannot be published in newspapers. In fact it is a greater problem to decide what to leave out than what to put in.

A flip young man stepping from a taxicab with several ladies to have a drink in his apartment, called to the driver: "Come on in and have a drink. Bring your cab." The driver replied evenly: "No thanks. I'm going to see a lady who doesn't drink. That's why I married her." And somehow or other the hilarious group went into the building quietly.

THE HAPPIEST GOAL

Now what has fame to give
More than a few brief cheers
And envy's bitter sneers;
A place of pomp and style
To hold a little while;
The cry for more and more
Splendors like those before;
The everlasting drain
And drag on strength and brain
And the fickle crowd that flies
When younger heroes rise?

Now what can wealth bestow
More than the fattened purse
Which may become a curse?
Who has good food, warm fires,
But little more desires.
To own the costliest things
No lasting pleasure brings
The multi-millionaire
Has multiplied his care.
To have beyond life's needs
Unrest and envy breeds.

What then is best to win
If neither wealth nor fame,
Luxury nor acclaim
Leave man at last content?
A life in friendship spent,
A love that has circled all,
The great joys and the small,
An understanding mind,
Wise, sympathetic, kind
Most joyously he lives
Who thought to others gives.

Roosevelt Inaugural Address Challenge To Good Citizenship

New Governor Of New York Takes Office With Eyes Of The Country On Him As Rising Figure In National Life

A view of Franklin D. Roosevelt as a national character, following in the footsteps of his famous Republican kinsman, is revealed in the comments of the country on his inauguration as Democratic governor of New York. Outstanding is the emphasis that is put upon his plea for non-partisanship in the efforts of his administration to serve the public welfare.

"His inaugural address is an appeal and a pledge," declares the AIBANY EVENING NEWS (Ind. Rep.). "It is the address of a sincere man who will do his best as chief executive of the state. He appeals to citizens generally to take a deeper interest in their government. He pledges that the 'business of the state will not be allowed to become involved in partisan politics and that I will not attempt to claim unfair advantage for my party or for myself for the accomplishing of those things on which we are all agreed.' Therein he has expressed the feeling that every citizen has. The welfare of the state is not a political matter. The state's business is not something to be conducted on the basis of political expediency."

Recognition of the fact that "the word has gone out that there is to be no hazing of the new governor" is given by the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS (Ind. Dem.), with the further comment: "The Republican bosses of New York seem to have had enough of their policy of making a national hero by opposition. They recognize the force and power of Franklin Roosevelt, and do not propose to give him the appeal to the country of single-handed achievement, such as they gave Governor Smith." The World-News concludes with the statement that "the new governor offers to Democracy the best promise of leadership that has as yet appeared on the horizon."

The BUFFALO EVENING NEWS (Rep.) quotes Mr. Roosevelt's promises that "the business of the state shall not become involved in party politics through his fault," and that "he will aim to serve the state rather than to gain advantages for his party," and offers the comment: "Let him hold to this rule, and he will write his name in the history of the state as one of its great governors."

"Political differences, of course, will continue to exist in a democracy," says the COLUMBIA RECORD (Dem.), "but all the people are equally interested in welfare movements and the world will slide backward where bickering is above civic responsibility.  Generally speaking there are no Republicans or Democrats when war or other emergencies arise. Then all the people are interested in the country and they work for the common good. Such is the obvious trend of Governor Roosevelt's thought, and not only the people of New York, but of all the states, may do well by practicing that sort of patriotism."

Speaking of Republican leaders of the Legislature, who "have already made fair profiters," the NEW YORK TIMES (Ind.) observes: "The very fact that they now feel it wise to hold out their hands to a Democratic governor indicates the beginning of better times at Albany. No one need doubt that Governor Roosevelt will be firm in what he believes to be right. But he will be frank and conciliatory, not unnecessarily belligerent. He will welcome assistance from the Legislature. If its Republican leaders really desire to establish working agreements with the new Democratic governor, they should, if they are honest in their professions, find it easy to do so with Franklin Roosevelt."

"He is distinctively an up-state man, associated by tradition with the party of that section," records the NEW YORK EVENING WORLD (Ind.), "and with his opportunity comes a duty which he will undertake to meet. His success or failure will depend upon the response." The SCHENECTADY GAZETTE (Ind. Dem.) declares: "Possibly it is merely a superficial appearance—but we hope it is something deeper—that makes us believe this may be the beginning of what may be termed an 'era of good feeling'. Political passions may be aroused—and again they may be submerged in an honest effort on all sides to work for the people's welfare."

The governor's stand on water power is seen by the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL (Rep.) to be related to the New York effort toward co-operation and that paper suggests that "it is more nearly an immediate issue in New York than in the federal government, and in any case New York's history in the ensuing four years on this subject will be of great national interest." As to the prospects, The Capital comments: "New York possesses the largest natural power in its water courses in the United States and how it disposes of it may, in the next four years, prove to be a real issue between the two great political parties, or, on the other hand, may set the rule by which both parties work out the power problem, so far as it is political."

Roosevelt as a national harmonizer is discussed by the CHICAGO TRIBUNE (Rep.). "With an attractive and forceful personality and with a conjuring name," according to that paper, "he is now trying to bring Democratic sections, factions, fractions and fragments back into agreement and understanding. It is not easy to see how he or anyone else can do it, highly desirable as it is that the thing should be done. Democrats in various sections of the country may remain Democrats because they do not know where else to go, but that does not bring them together in common thinking."

"It is not New York only that wishes Governor Roosevelt well," asserts the BIRMINGHAM NEWS (Dem.). "The whole country is likely to keep its eye on him. Suspicion lurks that the governorship of New York state is not perhaps the highest position that Governor Roosevelt will be called to fill in the country's service." Linking him with Governor Smith, the WORCESTER GAZETTE (Ind.) avers: "How impressively these two men in their relationship epitomize the spirit of America, sum in one tableau the ideal of this land of opportunity. Alfred Smith, the commoner become great; Franklin Roosevelt, the aristocrat on the way to greatness."

The DULUTH HERALD (Ind. Rep.) commends Governor Roosevelt's tribute to his predecessor: "Millions all over this country, including many who did not vote for Governor Smith because they were not of his political faith, will rejoice that the fine, upstanding gentleman who succeeds him as governor of New York took this occasion to say to him what was in his heart and what was in the hearts of those who cherish Al Smith's character and record as beautiful examples of American manhood, American opportunity and American achievement."

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

A wise woman by the name of Elizabeth Marbury said the other day: "I never crab about anything. It is very, very futile." Of course there are many fine, philosophical reasons why we should not "carry a grouch" or crab about things, but this simple reason is a good one, and sufficient. What's the use? On the most selfish grounds, it's very, very futile.

DO YOU KNOW?

It has been said that "an artist has nothing to say until he has painted 10,000 pictures." Few of us are artists, but the application of the suggestion is just as good. Most of us are quick to give our opinion about almost anything. With the least bit of experience we set ourselves up for authorities. This is coming to be a very highly competitive world and we had better stay out of things that we are not prepared for. When we have painted 10,000 pictures we have some right to speak. Until then we might better look and listen.

In 100 years from today it is not probable that a single person now alive will be playing any part in the affairs of this world. And yet we expect the world to be run much better than it is now. One hundred years is but a moment as time is measured over the long run. With that thought seriously in mind, how important it becomes that we give every bit of our best effort to helping today's boys and girls to be better men and women than we are. We shall presently all be out of the picture. But we have a great deal to say as to how things are going to be carried on in the long, long future.

CONTACT

Contact is one of the most important words in the language. Contact is the basis of the best in education. Education filters through personality. Contact of a pupil with the right personality may mean that a light will steal upon him, faintly but steadily as the dawn. Or one day it may illuminate him like the white light of the Damascus road. His soul is set aglow by the candle of another life, and he becomes something that he never was before. And he will never be the same again.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NOT SO GOOD

When the steamer Sierra sailed for Australia from San Francisco recently, she carried in her cargo 108 large green, well ventilated boxes of species of caterpillars, which the Commonwealth of Australia procured in the United States for the purpose of making war upon the prickly pear, a pest which grows so fast in that country that farmers have heretofore been unsuccessful in efforts to exterminate it.

The species, scientifically known as "melitara prodenialis", was developed by the United States Department of Agriculture in Ulvalde, Texas. The caterpillars are two inches long, and love prickly pears as children do ice cream in midsummer. They bore into the prickly pear plant and living on its fiber, cause its death in two years.

Like the rabbit, the prickly pear was introduced into Australia by well meaning persons, only to have the newcomer turn out to be a terrible pest. The prickly pear was introduced to supply material for the cochineal dye industry, but quickly spread beyond control.

BEWARE
of Coughs that Follow
FLU

They Weaken Your System and May Lead to Serious Trouble

You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and acts as a gentle laxative.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and helps check the growth of the germs.

In addition to creosote, Creomulsion contains cascara, wild cherry, syrup of white pine with tar, menthol, ipecac and licorice root, the combined effect of which is to dislodge and loosen up the phlegm, produce a cooling, soothing, healing effect on the inflamed mucous membranes and act as a gentle laxative. Creomulsion contains no narcotics, nor anything harmful. It can be safely given to children—they like its pleasant taste.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from flu and colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion may help you avoid flu, but is not sold as a flu remedy. If you have fever, or think you may have the flu, see your doctor immediately.

Caution!

A hard, racking cough from flu keeps the system weak and run down—making it easy to have a relapse, or catch colds or develop something more serious. By relieving the cough, Creomulsion helps the system regain its strength. Its use should be continued several days after securing relief so as to get the most benefit possible.

Court Opinion Gives Pianos To Waltham Co.

Termination Of Legal Question Over 15 Pianos In Store Of Late H. R. Boyd

In an opinion handed down this morning by Judge Hildebrand, judgment for the plaintiff is awarded in the case of the Waltham Piano company against Gertrude S. H. Boyd. Attorney William J. Moffatt, administrator in the estate of H. R. Boyd, deceased and Mary R. Clark agent in the estate of the late J. W. Clark.

Interesting legal points were involved in the case. Sheriff Reynolds had levied on the stock of goods of H. R. Boyd on an execution writ issued by Gertrude S. H. Boyd. There was also a claim for rent. The question arose as to whether or not 15 pianos claimed by the Waltham Piano company were subject to execution by a general creditor of H. R. Boyd or whether they could be distrained by the landlord.

After the levy had been made by the sheriff and before the return day of the writ H. R. Boyd died. Letters of administration were issued to Attorney William J. Moffatt. At the time of his death Boyd owed a rent claim of $1.272 to Mary R. Clark, agent for the J. W. Clark estate on East Washington street. Sheriff Reynolds advertised a sale but before the sale notice was given of the rent claim.

An interpleader was then awarded to the Waltham Piano Company to try the title to the pianos. Arguments were submitted to the court in banc, with the result that the court holds that the pianos are not subject to the execution or rent claim and are the property of the piano company. Costs of the case are placed on defendants.

Council Offers $15,000 To Hodge

Would Compromise On Property Needed For Approach To North Street Bridge

Members of city council in regular meeting at the City building today adopted Councilman Walter V. Tyler's motion, which offers to J. R. Hodge the sum of $15,000 for property in Neshannock avenue taken by the city for the purpose of erecting the Neshannock creek bridge. Viewers recently awarded $21,000 damages. Unless Hodges accepts the offer by 12, midnight, January 31, the city will stand pat and fight the case in court.

Solicitor White today told council that he could not make any progress with Hodge toward a settlement.

He advised council to offer Hodge $15,000 in settlement of the damages.

Council concurred in his recommendation by approving the motion presented by Councilman Tyler.

Large Audiences Greet Evangelist At Wesleyan Church

Rev. Jesse Whitecotton, evangelist from Lapel, Ind., was greeted with large and attentive congregations at the Sunday services of the evangelistic services in the Wesleyan Methodist church, Lyndal street.

In the morning Rev. Whitecotton preached a persuasive sermon on "The Barren Fig Tree". In the evening his theme was "The Winning Side", in which he stressed that the anti-Christ was in the world and Christ was with the Christian people or on their side. Music by Mr. Lewis was a pleasing feature of both services.

There will be no services this evening. On Tuesday evening there will be special music. On Wednesday evening Rev. Whitecotton will speak on "The Realities of Hell".

thrilled by a lot of beautiful scenery. But they were so busy dodging death they had little time to take note of lovely landscapes and charming surroundings.

The first mishap occurred in the Philippine islands. Wanda and Wilda tried to shoot some rapids in a skiff. The skiff collapsed and pitched the girls into a sea of crocodiles. Native guides rescued them in the nick of time.

Then began a whole series of adventures and rescues.

Finally, breathless and longing for home, they came to Cairo, Egypt. Before they knew it a sheik on a camel had run them down. Again their good luck was with them. They escaped serious injury.

Now they are back again in the safe quiet United States—and they hope the country stays that way.

HOOVER WILL APPOINT COMMISSION TO STUDY PROHIBITION QUESTION

and ability that neither the wets nor the drys can charge prejudice. In the innumerable conferences he has held since returning to Washington, however, he has found that an impartial observer on prohibition is a comparatively rare specimen.

Mr. Hoover wants to make his fact-finding commission representative of American life. With that in view, it is said he is favorable to the idea of a commission of nine, including an outstanding business leader, a banker, several lawyers, a physician, a scientist, an economist, an educator, a sociologist and a labor leader. There probably will be one or more women. It is his idea to get away from those who are known to have positive views on either side of the question.

Besieged By Visitors.

The president-elect began his second week of conferences in Washington today with no diminution of the steady stream of visitors that flowed by his desk. Thus far during his Washington sojourn he has interviewed and discussed various questions with more than 200 callers. Nearly all of the prominent Republicans in congress have had his ear at one time or another during the past week.

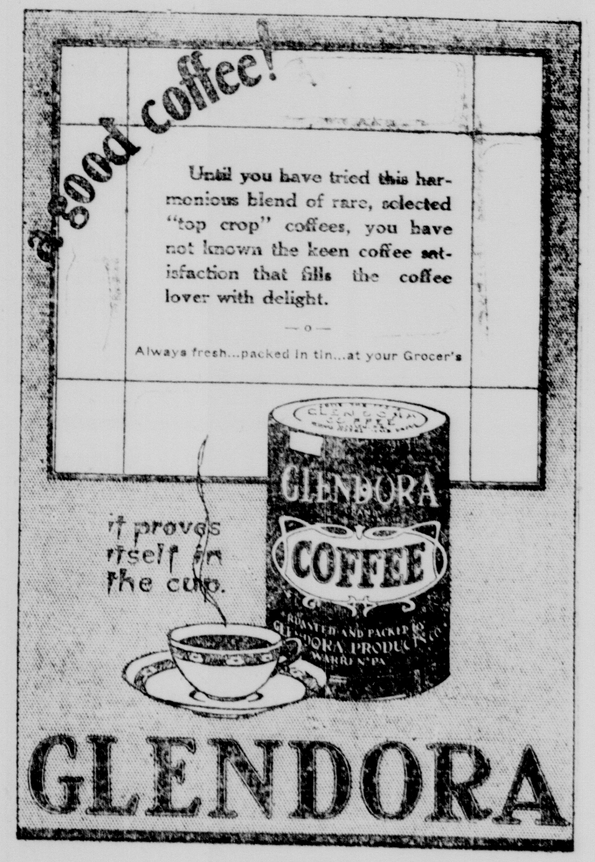

It is now considered unlikely that he will leave here for Florida before Thursday, or possibly Friday. So many people with so many problems are demanding his time that he has several times been forced to postpone his departure.

To Clean Up Business.

Mr. Hoover is intent, however, upon cleaning up as much business as possible before going south. He wants at least a month of comparative quiet before March 4, a month of rest and relaxation in which to weigh and consider the innumerable recommendations that have been put up to him here both as to personnel and policy. Therefore, he figures that the more people he sees in Washington the fewer he will have to see at Miami Beach.

His stay in Washington has been so prolonged that it is now improbable there will be any Caribbean tour, as originally planned, before March 4. A week-end trip to Havana probably will be the only break in the president-elect's Florida stay. The Cuban government has been given to understand that only unforeseen developments will prevent this visit.

Evangelist Schmidt Makes Report Of Castle Hill Mission

L. Schmidt, evangelist superintendent of the Castle Hill Mission and Bible House, located on the Old Golf grounds has completed his annual report for the work done from July 1, 1928, to January 1, 1929.

In this report Mr. Schmidt tells of the various ways that his institution has aided many needy people. Clothing and food have been given, a picnic and parking ground has been maintained, Bibles in all languages have been distributed free and a free employment office has been conducted.

The following is the complete report for six months as submitted by Mr. Schmidt:

Meals served in the mission to poor persons, 5,019.

Baskets distributed to needy families, 386.

Complete suits given to poor men, coats, vests and trousers, 129.

Men's overcoats given to poor men out of work, 42.

Men's underwear and shirts given out, 703.

Men's shoes, overshoes and rubbers, pairs, 117.

Men's and boys hair cuts and shaves, 286.

Homeless men cleaned and disinfected, 12.

Women's dresses, coats and girls dresses and coats and children's distributed in pieces, 2,016.

Free bath and laundry service, to wash garments, soap, soap powder furnished to persons, 430.

Free tourist lodging given to a number of persons.

Milk distributed to poor mothers and children, 342 quarts.

Cash given out for medical purposes, doctors, dentists, drug stores, to men and women, 61.

Women and girls shoes given away, pairs, 208.

Hats, caps, stockings, raincoats and sweaters given to men, women and children, pieces, 728.

Repair articles, sewing material, thread and buttons to repair garments, to persons, 98.

Laundry and bathroom expenses, $51.00.

Bibles, testaments in many languages, tracts, gospels and portions of Scripture, 5,084.

Paid cash for persons for street car fare, railroad fare and other means of transportation for poor people to get to work or to their home, 83 persons, $69.12.

Conducted services at the mission and corner of Jefferson and Washington streets; conducted a number of meetings in other cities and towns and distributed Bibles and portions of Bibles in the out of town services where New Castle was published in all the newspapers.

We called in a number of homes in this city helping and advising deserving people. We instructed men and women how to be self supporting and get positions.

Furnished employment for men, 316.

Furnished work for women, 481.

We gave shelter and lodging to a number of men, women and some children.

A good deal has been done at the mission during November and December for poor needy men, women and children of which we have no record, giving toys, candy, fruit, meals, shoes, garments etc.

We sold without profit or any compensation whatever many Bibles at cost. We the undersigned give all our work and service without money or salary. We take up no collection at the mission. We help all deserving persons to the limit of our means at all times.

We thank all persons who have made the work of the Castle Hill mission possible, especially the merchants who gave coal and eatables to take care of the hungry.

Our greatest need in the winter during these cold days are coal, beans potatoes, bread, salt, sugar, coffee, soap and soap powder. All persons asking for help should be sent to police headquarters, investigated and from there sent to the several local institutions with an order of some kind of investigation. No restaurant, hotel, store or private home should give or help a stranger not knowing who he is—to protect themselves against criminals, all begging should be reported to the police department.

As long as merchants, restaurants, hotels and private homes and individual persons assist beggars and panhandlers, loafers and bums many sneak around locating places to rob and burglarize homes as well as business places. This is absolutely impossible if all strangers and suspicious puersons were refused and reported to the police.

All deserving people could get help through the proper organizations, after reporting to police headquarters and the undeserving arrested and ordered out of the city.

We are for the protection of the home with mothers and children, properly organized system.

Respectfully,

L. Schmidt, Superintendent; Alice Schmidt, matron, Ester L. Schmidt, secretary and treasurer.

To Have Hearing To Divide Reward

Reward To Be Paid After Kaltenbaugh's Case Has Been Disposed Of

Attorney Orville Brown, who recently presented the claim of Mrs. Sol Festosa, 12 Cass street, for a portion of the reward offered by the county commissioners of Stark county, O., for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of John and Bertha Oser, of Canal Fulton, O., has received word from the offices of the Stark county commissioners, explaining the reward and the manner in which it will be disposed of.

According to the information received, the reward which is for $1,000, was offered for information that would lead to the arrest and conviction of the murderer, whom it happens, is Edward Kaltenbaugh, whom the local police authorities arrested at his home near Grove City during the past week.

This apparently would include Mrs. S. L. Festosa, the arresting officers and such other persons of whom there are several, from or through whom the arrest of Kaltenbaugh was effected.

Immediately after the conviction of Kaltenbaugh, the judge of the common pleas court hearing the case will preside at a special hearing held for the purpose of determining to just whom the reward should be paid.

It will be entirely up to the judge before whom the conviction is secured to determine the person entitled to share in the reward and the amount that each shall receive.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

IF WISHES WERE GOBBLERS

Peter laughed—he couldn't help it. Turkey Gobbler did look so determined.

"How are you going to manage to get away?" asked he. "Where are you going to run, and when?" I shouldn't think it would be much fun chasing about by yourself."

Turkey Gobbler snorted and shook his wattles, now redder than ever.

"Who said I was going to chase about alone? Did you ever hear of anyone who ran wild by himself? I should say not. I met a chap in the woods last week and he asked me to join his flock. I'm on my way now."

The Boy looked enviously at the Turkey. What fun the old fellow was looking forward to. If only he might go along he might have a good time as well. Gobbler noticed Peter's expression at once.

"Want to come with me, Boy?" asked he. The boy nodded.

"You just bet I do," he answered, "but where are you going? I don't want to get so far away from home that I can never find my way back, you know."

"Oh, there's no danger of that," declared Turkey Gobbler. "Do you see those mountains over there? Well, that is where I am going. That is where the wild Turkeys make their home and, by the way, make up your mind right away whether you are coming or not, will you? I have just remembered that there is going to be a dance this afternoon and I don't want to miss it. It is getting late now; by sunset very likely it will be all over. Are you coming or aren't you? Come now, speak up."

"JAMIE HAD TO SHINNY UP GOBBLER'S LEG"

The mention of a dance made Peter determined to go. No matter what happened, he couldn't afford to let such a chance as this go by. So he cried:

"Sure I'm coming, and I'm ready this very moment. But how am I going to reach those mountains before the sun goes down? I haven't such long legs nor such strong ones as you have, Gobbler, and you also have wings to help you out if you should need them."

"I guess I know all that," replied his new friend. "Do you suppose I have been around you all this while and not pitied you many a time for not being able to use those two arms of yours to mount into the air if you wished to?"

Next: "Off to the Mountains."

AND THE BUNNIES

She—That's Mrs. Brown's new sealskin wrap. It looks more like rabbitskin to me.

He—Yes, someone's evidently been tampering with the seals.—Passing Show.

FINE FOR CHILDREN!
Give them a good start in life, with happy smiles and healthy little bodies. Children need a mild corrective occasionally to regulate stomach and bowels. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a safe vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They tone up and regulate the eliminative tract. Not a nasty cathartic or a habit-forming medicine, but a safe pleasant remedy for constipation, sour stomach, torpid liver, bad breath, and similar disorders. Dr. Edwards, a widely known family physician of Ohio, prescribed these tablets for many years in his own practice. Children from six years up are greatly helped by them and like to take them. Recognized by their olive color, Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets overcome those irritable spells that many children are subject to, keep their bodies in active healthy condition, skin clear and eyes bright with the light of perfect health. 15c, 30c and 60c sizes.

FIGHT flu this simple way
Remove germs from hands often with this purifying toilet soap

THE grip of influenza is firm upon the nation. In one week alone, officials reported a million and a quarter new cases.

No one should take needless risks now, health authorities advise—fight flu constantly, they urge. Take every precaution, even if the malady appears to be mild in your community. And, in safeguarding yourself, bear in mind that hands may spread flu, just as they carry and spread the germs of other serious diseases.

Our hands gather germs everywhere. Money, telephones, carstraps, doorknobs—and many more things, that we must daily touch in common with others, may leave the hands germ-laden. This explains why all authorities attach so much importance to clean hands.

Don't fear Flu —fight it these seven ways
Rules established by the LIFE EXTENSION INSTITUTE
1 Keep out of crowds all you can.
2 Remove germs from hands as often as possible.
3 Get plenty of rest, sleep, exercise, fresh air and nourishing food.
4 Avoid exposure to chill and wet, especially when tired.
5 Fortify yourself to resist the flu by having a health examination.
6 If you have the real flu don't take "home remedies"—call a doctor.
7 Be careful in convalescence. It is a danger period.

A real safeguard

The Life Extension Institute has established seven protective measures to help you guard yourself and family. See panel at right, particularly Rule 2—keep hands germ-free. A vital precaution, yet so simple to carry out. Just have everyone in your family wash often with Lifebuoy—the purifying toilet soap that removes germs as well as dirt.

The doorknobs your hands must touch daily make ideal transfer stations for disease germs.

For health's sake, make Lifebuoy a regular habit. Remove germs from hands often, not only in times of epidemics, but always—just as doctors do to protect themselves and patients.

Millions love its clean scent

The same delightful, mild and antiseptic Lifebuoy lather that guards health by removing germs—keeps skins fresh and clear by purifying pores. Prevents embarrassing body odors, too.

Lifebuoy's pleasant, extra-clean scent, which vanishes as you rinse, tells you it gives greater protection. Start using Lifebuoy today as a common sense health measure.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Now any of you customers who wanted one of "them good old-fashioned" nights must have been tickled pink last night. And if you had the good fortune of leaving a car out in the weather for a couple of hours you were in a paroxysm of delight.

For the night froze everything but the law of gravity and even this was frosted around the edges. What it did to what has been referred to once or twice as my car (well, it has four wheels and a motor) was just one of those sad things.

What it froze my friend Smith is endeavoring to find out. It wasn't the horn, and I rather imagine the air in the tires didn't get frozen, but aside from these things everything else seemed to be as cold as the Bay of Whales.

After tramping the started until I nearly wore out a shoe, my friend came out and hauled or dragged it in.

In spite of the cold weather, Fred Llewellyn is beginning to talk tomatoes. For you will remember Fred's crop of tomatoes last year was the pride of Scott township. Out that way they have two things they are proud of, the Perry Highway and Fred Llewellyn's tomatoes.

There has been some talk down at the corner store of changing the name of Harlansburg to Tomatoburg or Llewellynville. The first name has the best chance for there are few people who could pronounce the latter.

Even the Harlansburg basketball team wears flaming red jerseys as a tribute to the crop of tomatoes Fred raised last year. If business increases in the next five years you can expect to see a big sign electrically lighted at both approaches to Harlansburg, atop of which will be a life-size copy of a tomato in full bloom.

Fred is experimenting at the present time on cross-breeding of tomato vines and peanuts so he can raise the juicy vegetables in their own wrapper. Another idea crossing tomatoes with rice, so that customers will have the ingredients for tomato-rice soup without any trouble.

Occasionally someone arises and demands to know why the blinkety-blank Pennsylvania highways cost more than Ohio highways. The answer is simple if you want to drive 150 miles or more on Ohio highways, as I did on Saturday and Sunday.

After bumping over what they probably call an improved highway for 20 miles, loosening up the mechanical parts of the car, and having to use the skill of a river pirate passing cars on the narrow roads, you know why Ohio roads cost less. Pennsylvania roads cost more, friends, but they surely are worth it.

There was a time when The News had to insist to callers over the telephone that this was not a butcher shop. Now it's taxi rates. A gentleman called up the other evening and wanted to know how much it would cost to haul four people from Long avenue to the Franklin Junior High school.

Butler Man Says He Was Attacked; Thrown From Auto

Tells Police Here He Was Assaulted In Butler Then Hauled To New Castle

Henry A. Fisher of Butler, Pa., was attacked late Saturday night at his Butler office, black-jacked, "taken for a ride" and ejected from an automobile along the New Castle-Butler highway, two miles outside of New Castle, he reported here early Sunday morning. After receiving treatment from a New Castle physician he returned to Butler.

According to Fisher's story told here, he had left his Butler office.

He had left his records on a desk and decided to return for them.

When he reached the office he noticed a coupe standing near.

As he was about to enter the office he was struck and knocked unconscious.

That was the last he remembered, according to his story until picked up by a passing motorist.

He was being supported by a highway road sign, it is reported when the motorist saw Fisher's condition.

The name of the motorist who brought Fisher to New Castle has not been learned, as yet.

His head was badly lacerated by the blow. Before he left for Butler he notified city and state police of the attack.

Local police discovered a Ford standing Sunday morning in Butler avenue.

A clear conscience makes people sing, and doubtless the fact that bathing is an acquired virtue accounts for bathroom melody.

Young People Gather At Y. W. C. A. Auditorium On Sunday

MANY TAKE PART DURING PROGRAM

It was an inspiring throng of young people that gathered at the Y. W. C. A. Sunday afternoon for the first 1929 rally of the Young People's Inter-Sunday School Council of New Castle and vicinity. Approximately 200 were in attendance.

The afternoon conference was preceded by a registration at which a record of all the churches represented was secured. Practically every Sunday school in the New Castle area had one or more representatives there. Most all of denominations had some share in the program.

"Loyalty to Christ," the theme for the afternoon, was ephasized in the talks by various council members. The speaking program began at 2 o'clock, with T. J. Davies, young people's superintendent, in charge. Miss Geneva Fleming, the associate superintendent, took his place in the presiding chair later on in the afternoon.

Following the opening praise service conducted by Frank Brenneman, with Miss Frances Turner at the piano, Mr. Davies called upon Mrs. J. C. B. Douthett to open the conference with prayer. Then after the theme was announced, Clarence Ruthrauff, the first speaker began his talk on "Jesus As An Example of Loyalty."

Other two, three and four minute talks, intermingled with musical selections and prayer groups, occupied the remainder of the program.

State Visitor Is Enthusiastic Over News' Article

Says News' Attitude Indicates State Convention Here Will Be "Humdinger"

A letter from J. Herbert Kelly, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association, who was here recently, making a survey of the facilities here for the state convention, sends the following letter to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, concerning the visit:

HARRISBURG, PA.,
January 12, 1929.

MR. JAMES W. COLE,
Secretary, Chamber of Commerce,
New Castle, Pennsylvania.

MY DEAR MR. COLE:

Many thanks for your letter of January 10 and for a copy of the January 8 issue of the New Castle News. Mr. Rentz certainly gave our visit fine publicity in his excellent paper.

I imagine that the write-up was by Mr. Bart Richards. He did himself proud on that. I am preserving the entire article for the attention of our President, Doctor Charles R. Foster, the next time he visits this office.

I have already shown it to Miss Matthews, who expressed her appreciation of the mention which Mr. Rentz gave her.

If this write-up is a sample of the way New Castle does things, I am sure that our convention in your city December 26 and 27 will be a humdinger.

With kindest personal regards, I am,

Very truly yours,
J. HERBERT KELLEY,
Executive Secretary.

Rev. Maitland Celebrates His Spiritual Anniversary At Greenwood Wednesday

Extensive preparations are now being made for Rev. Samuel R. Maitland's annual spiritual anniversary which will be held this year on Wednesday afternoon and evening, January 16. The meeting will take place at the Greenwood M. E. church on the New Castle-Ellwood City road, where Rev. Maitland has served as pastor for a number of years.

One of the features being planned for the coming anniversary is a chicken dinner at noon on that day, to which ministers of the churches of New Castle and other friends of Rev. Maitland will be invited. New Castle pastors will be provided free transportation to and from the Greenwood church, providing they are at the Y. M. C. A. here in time to board the special bus that is being chartered for this occasion. The trip from this city will start at 11:10 a. m., while the return journey from the Greenwood church will get under way promptly at half past three.

Rev. E. A. Crooks, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church of this city and a close friend of Mr. Maitland, will preside over the meeting of the afternoon at which Colonel W. F. Jenkins of New York city, who as a speaker for the Salvation Army has gained for himself an international reputation, will deliver the principal address. Col. Jenkins will likely cite the distinct reasons for the observance as well as countless other matters. He is an orator in every sense of the word and the message that he delivers on that day promises to be interesting.

Other organizations that will assist in the anniversary program will be the divisional band of the Salvation Army, several officers of other corps and members of the Ministerial Association of New Castle. They will assist at the afternoon service. At the close of the afternoon observance, buses will return the New Castle people to this city, arriving here probably around four o'clock.

Then at 7:30 o'clock in the evening an open air meeting on the diamond here will precede the fine program that has been arranged for evening at the First Christian church. Following the outdoor preparatory meeting a group of Rev. Maitland's friends will parade up East Washinton street to the city building, headed by the Army band, and there face about for the return march to the Christian church on the diamond. The evening program will start at 7:45 p. m. o'clock.

At the service, another Salvation Army official, Lieutenant Colonel Joseph Atkinson, a divisional commander, will be in charge. Col. Jenkins will again speak. Music for the evening will be furnished by the divisional band. All religious bodies of the city are invited to join in to make this anniversary meeting one of the largest yet held. Likewise they are asked to be out for the victory march of Rev. Maitland's friends up the main street of the city.

REV. S. A. MAITLAND

It is not known what Col Jenkins will speak on at either service, but the address in the evening undoubtedly will be as stirring as that of the afternoon. The day is expected to outdo all former observances of the spiritual observances of Rev. Maitland, who for the past 12 or 14 years has been rendering splendid service to his Lord in the Greenwood church community.

Where are Granny's flannels

Perhaps they called them the "gay nineties" because the underwear was so red and so itchy. As a girl, how Grandma used to dread October 25th, the day on which the entire family switched to heavy flannels!

Then early in 1890, the good news spread that a pleasant medicine for colds had been discovered. Tiny tablets, easy to take, which gave quick relief and left no distress.

Every year since, Grandma has used or recommended GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. The old reliable remedy, she calls it. Four generations of her family have used it. The laxative and tonic ingredients don't merely eliminate the symptoms. They help nature to side-step the cold entirely or throw it off quickly. So Granny wears no flannels any more .... For your own sake, make sure of getting the genuine! Emphasize GROVE'S when asking for GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Price 30c.

GREENWOOD DIRECTORS MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

The regular quarterly meeting of Greenwood Cemetery company directors will be held Tuesday evening, January 15, in the office of the company at the cemetery. A number of matters of importance will be considered at this session of the board.

doctors warn AGAINST standardizing weight

May result in dangerous loss of fat in the tissues

THE American dieting craze that seeks to reduce all fat in the tissues is dangerous. Eminent medical authorities are alarmed and they point out that it is suicidal to try to standardize human weight.

"We are not machines," says one famous doctor, "but complex living bodies; we can never be standardized." He goes on to say that "What is a normal weight for one individual is an abnormal weight for another. The proper weight and degree of nourishment for any person . . . is that at which he is most capable and productive." Extreme dieting may result in permanent injuries. Without a reserve of fat we become a prey to diseases.

It is time for common sense, supported by medical warning, to end the fad of extreme thinness. One error in dieting is to think that only sugar is fattening. Any food that nourishes fattens, and sugar is a pure, cheap, nourishing food. Sugar's greatest blessing to mankind, however, is its use in making other foods palatable and enjoyable. Serve healthful baked apples or pears, apple sauce or stewed dried fruits for breakfast. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

Man Who Shot Police Officer Seeking Pardon

Frank Appugliese Asks Pardon Board To Release Him From Prison

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—The board of pardons on Wednesday will hear argument on the application of Frank Appugliese, Lawrence county. His petition for a rehearing of the case was allowed by the board at its meeting in December.

Appugliese was sentenced June 15, 1925, to serve from three to six years in the Western penitentiary for assault and battery and other charges. He was convicted for shooting Grover Syling on December 22, 1924.

An application for a pardon was refused by this board at its meeting last January.

The board will also have before it an application for rehearing from Frank L. Clinefelter, also of Lawrence county.

Greensburg Reports Below Zero Weather

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 14.—The coldest weather of the winter gripped this section of Westmoreland county today.

Temperatures ranging from zero to 14 below were reported from several districts. The mountain district of Ligonier, 19 miles east of here, was believed to be the coldest spot in the county, with the mercury skidding to 14 below zero.

Scottdale reported 10 below, Mt. Pleasant eight below and Greensburg zero.

No fatalities have been reported and despite heavy snowfall in the mountains the highways are open.

Long Sleep Makes Baby Happy Again

"Our baby kept waking us several times a night, until we started giving him a little Castoria after his last nursing," says an Iowa mother. "He slept soundly from the first night and it made him look and feel worlds better." Baby specialists endorse Fletcher's Castoria; and millions of mothers know how this purely-vegetable, harmless preparation helps babies and children, with colic, constipation, colds, diarrhea, etc. The Fletcher signature is always on the wrapper of genuine Castoria. Avoid imitations.

VALUABLE PIN IS RECOVERED

Within the past few days, it was reported to the police that a valuable pin, in which there were diamond and other valuable settings, had been found missing at the home of J. E. Elliott, Berger Place. It was finally decided that the pin had probably been attached to a piece of ladies' wearing apparel, which had been sent to the Smith Dry Cleaning company to be dry cleaned. The pin had not been noticed in the cleaning process. The dry cleaning concern was notified and drained the vat in which the clothing had been cleaned and found the pin in it, intact. The police were notified and in turn notified the owner, who is now again in possession of the pin.

Mother Of College Professor Is Dead

Mrs. W. I. Taylor Of New Wilmington, Passes Away Saturday Afternoon

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 14.—News of the death of Mrs. W. I. Taylor who succumbed here at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, plunged the college town and the college into sorrow. Mrs. Taylor, 68, was the mother of Dr. Gilbert H. Taylor, head of the Ancient Language department of Westminster college.

A fall downstairs several days ago is considered as the indirect cause of her death, although she apparently revived from the exterior ill effects of the accident. The fall and an intermittent sickness of about ten days preceded the end.

Mrs. Taylor is survived by her husband, a daughter, two sons, and several brothers and sisters. Her husband is W. L. Taylor of New Wilmington; her daughter, Mrs. Mary Lee Knickerbocker of Ogsden, Utah; her sons, Dr. Gilbert H. Taylor of New Wilmington and W. T. Taylor of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Mrs. Taylor and her husband came to New Wilmington early in the fall of 1928 to live with their son, Dr. Gilbert H. Taylor.

Your BROADWAY and Mine

BY WALTER WINCHELL

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Some of the Park Rowgues gathered to reminisce about Tex Rickard, and one of them contended that his real nickname was Dink until a kidder in Alaska tagged him Tex.

They said of him, too, that he got more of a kick out of kidding a sports writer. His pet diversion was watching a newcomer ankle across the heavy carpet in his office. When the lad touched the doorknob he got an electric shock.

His last conference with the sports chroniclers, to hear one tell it, was at the Garden. Suddenly he got up and left the group, but not before he remarked in this manner:

"Say! You fellers oughta come down to Miami with me. Gotta great story down there. Mebbe it'll be front page stuff, too."

The Americana bureau of the Mercury offers it from a Mississippi rag's Social Notes Department:

"Mrs. Sarah Allen is seriously sick at her home in Bayly's Neck, and all persons are requested by her sons to stop coming to see the big hog until she improves."

THE REAL NEW YORK

Elmer Rice, the author of "Street Scene", which the William Brady, Ltd., has provided at the Playhouse, appears to have solved that ageless query, "What's the matter with your second act?" The middle episode of the new and compelling drama is the most effective second act the New York stage has offered in years, and it gripped, held and excited all of us until the fuzz lifted on our arms. In sum, a hair-raising scene.

Mr. Rice has jotted down the loves, emotions, sounds, squeaks and sobs of the New York tenement dwellers, and Mr. Brady assigned that adroit and artful scenic architect, Jo Mielziner, to fashion the lone setting, which left you breathless with admiration the moment the asbestos lifted, and revealed it. It is a classic, this artificial tenement building, and Mr. Mielziner is to cheered.

"Street Scene" revolves about the Maurrants, an Irish family familiar to the sidewalks of New York. Mrs. Maurrant, still young and easy to look upon, believes that life isn't worth letting slip by without living, so she accepts the attentions of the milkman. The mother of a grown daughter and a small son, she is gossiped about by the local Winchells until her stage-hand husband disocovers her infidelity. He returns unexpectedly and murders them. The murder episode is the most thrilling event of the soggy season, and is likely to send "Street Scene" into the click division.

The following act offers an almost equally startling scene when the killer is captured and permitted a few parting words with his daughter Rose. It is a most touching and heart-juggling moment, and opens the tear ducts. The first act is a bit long and repetitious, and could stand the pruning blade. That would do much to make "Street Scene" a more graceful show.

Nine Girl Reserves Receive Rings At Special Ceremony

Senior Girl Reserve Ring Ceremonial Saturday Evening In Y. W.

Nine members of the Girl Reserve club of Senior High received Girl Reserve rings at a special ceremonial Saturday evening in the Y. W. C. A. The girls receiving the rings were: Roberta Sedgwick, Isabel Thomas, June Duff, Janet Brenneman, Madge Gardner, Alma Fankhauser, Genevra Hazen, Katherine Boston, and Edith Cleveland.

These girls received the highest symbol of the Girl Reserve organization. To receive a girl reserve ring a girl reserve who desires to have one must apply for a ring. They are then questioned, no girl is permitted to wear a ring unless she will strive to live up to all girl reserve ideals. One thing each girl must do is to write an essay on, "Why Should I Wish to be a Girl Reserve Ring Wearer".

The ceremony at which these rings are given is very pretty. All girls are dressed in the girl reserve uniform and they receive the rings with pink roses. Taking part in the ceremony were four alumni girl reserve ring wearers of senior high. These were: Misses Virginia Slee, Ruth Donaldson, Audrey Brenneman, Alice Grimes, Miss Arabella Cabau, president of the Senior High club, Miss Ethel Kelly, supervisor of the club and Miss Grace Lowers, secretary of girl's work of the Y. W.

Following the ceremonial the girl reserve ring wearers, twenty-nine in number had a banquet in the third floor dining room of the Y. W. The dinner table was attractive, with tall blue tapers and bouquets of pink roses and narcissus. A delicious menu was enjoyed. Girls of the George Washington Junior High Girl Reserve club served.

Kaltenbaugh Not Worried

Seems Not In Least Disturbed Over Possible Fate Awaiting Him

TRIAL WILL START PROBABLY TUESDAY

(Special To The News)

CANTON, O., Jan. 14.—Somewhere in the peculiar mental makeup of Edward Kaltenbaugh there must be something of the fatalist. "Whatever is to be will be" seems to be his philosophy and what has been done seems to bother him not at all.

What is to come seems to bother him no less, and the shadow of the electric chair, looming up in the not distant future seems to cast no more of a shadow over his spirit than the shadow of a cloud over a June sun.

"I suppose they'll give me the chair" he says nonchalantly as he discusses the crime. "Looks like there's nothing else to it," and then he smiles a deprecating little smile which seems to say, "funny isn't it."

Doesn't Act Crazy.

Not that Kaltenbaugh is crazy enough to be considered for leniency in the case. He seems to know the difference between right and wrong, and when asked to go back over the dates of his previous employment, the dates he came to New Castle, how he got there from Canal Fulton, and what he did after he got to New Castle does so without any discrepancy in his stories.

Why he killed the Osers he professes he does not know. Nor does he give any lucid reason why he talked of the crime he had committed, when he used the telephone at the home of Mrs. Sol Festosa on Cass street, New Castle.

Save for some forgery he committed in Mercer county he claims to have never been in trouble before. Apparently he was a roamer by nature, for he tells of working on several farms in Mercer county of drifting around from place to place and finally getting to Canal Fulton.

Canton Is Aroused

Canton citizens are demanding that Kaltenbaugh be given "the chair" for his crime. One prominent citizen of that city in discussing the case said, "We have been too lenient with murderers in Canton and Stark county. In fifteen years we have never sent a murderer to the chair and this includes the slayer of Don Mellett. It's high time that we took sterner measures and we believe that Kaltenbaugh should be given the extreme penalty."

Kaltenbaugh will be tried this week, possibly will go on trial before Judge Agler of the Stark county courts on Tuesday. The case is setting a record for speedy justice in Stark county for less than two weeks after Kaltenbaugh had slain John and Bertha Oser he will answer to the state for his crime.

If County Prosecutor Henry Harter, Jr., has his way, the record will be continued and Kaltenbaugh will go to the chair in a short time after the trial, for Harter is grim in his determination to send Kaltenbaugh through the "little green door" in Columbus, O.

Suit For Damages In Auto Accident On Trial Today

Second trial of the case of Thomas R. McComb against Henry C. Turner was taken up before Judge Chambers in court room No. 1 this morning. The case is one growing out of an automobile accident, in which $800 is claimed by the plaintiff.

Plaintiff's car, driven by James R. McComb, a brother, was going north on Highland avenue, when it was struck and damaged by the Turner car, driven by Paul Turner, when he drove from Edgewood avenue out on Highland.

It is claimed by the plaintiff that the Turner car was being operated at a high rate of speed and in a reckless manner. This is denied by Turner. At a former trial of the case a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. Application for a new trial was made, which was granted.

Grand Rush Is On For Dog Licenses

Eleventh Hour Rush To Secure 1929 Dog Licenses On At Court House

Eleventh hour rush for dog licenses is on at the court house. County Treasurer Adda M. Smiley announced this morning that only 2131 licenses had been secured today, which means there are more than that number yet to be taken out. As tomorrow is the last day, the grand rush will be on early. Few applicants came in during the forenoon today, owing probably to inability to get their "starters" working, but this afternoon's business proved better.

READING THE STARS - - - By Laird

"Starlight, star bright,
Very first star I've seen tonight.
Wish I may,
Wish I might,
Have the wish I wish tonight."

Ever down the ages men and women have looked up at the glittering stars of heaven for light and guidance. We all have our planet guides, say the astrologers, which control our destinies. The young girl looks up to the glittering heaven and wonders which of all the bright galaxy is controlling her fate. And what that fate shall be. Is love on the way? Do the planets prohesy joy or sorrow for her, poverty or riches? Possibly the "man of her dreams" is also looking up at the stars, trying to read there the promises of the future, striving to see reflected in them the face of his love.

Steen To Enforce State Milk Law

Chocolate Milk Must Contain Full Standard Of Cream Milk

CAP ON BOTTLE MUST BE LABELLED

Dr. William L. Steen, city health officer, today stated that a new law, effective January 1, relating to "chocolate milk" is to be enforced to the letter in New Castle.

He said that in order to sell chocolate milk here the cap must be labelled "milk" and that it must contain the full standard of milk cream.

Steen declared that an investigation showed him that a number of dealers are selling a "drink" which contains milk, but it is not "chocolate milk."

He declared that it does not comply with the law in that the 'drink' is made of skim or powdered milk and flavored with chocolate but it is not "chocolate milk."

"If people want to get chocolate milk, they should see that the cap is labelled 'Milk'," he advised.

He said that he already had taken up the matter of "chocolate milk" with school officials.

Firemen Answer Two False Alarms

Water Company Is Filled With Smoke

No Action Is Taken By Fire Chief At Building This Morning

Smoke filled the offices of the City of New Castle Water company and the A. and P. store on North Mill street this morning at 7:40. Responding to a still alarm, Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn discovered that the janitor of the building, having some trouble with the flue, had taken down the smoke pipe and then put it back again.

This morning the pipe fell down, and that was the reason the fire chief was called. No action was taken nor was there any damage done.

GOOD PERFORMANCE WITH ECONOMY

THE new Ford is more than a new automobile. It is the expression of an ideal—an ideal that looks to bringing the benefits of modern transportation to all the people.

Because of this purpose, the price is low and great care has been taken to insure economy of operation and up-keep. Few features are of greater importance to millions of motorists.

Conservative figures show that the new Ford averages 20 miles per gallon of gasoline, with many Ford owners reporting greater mileage on long trips. Oil consumption is also low per hundred miles. There is a considerable saving on tires due to the balance of the car, ease of steering and perfected wheel design.

All tires used on new Ford cars and recommended for replacement are specially built by leading tire manufacturers according to specifications laid down by the Ford Motor Company. Mechanical up-keep is low because of simplicity of design and the enduring quality that has been built into every part.

Large corporations have proved Ford economy

Definite evidence of the economy of the new Ford is shown in the repeated and growing purchases by Federal and city governments, by police departments, and by large industrial companies which keep day-by-day cost records.

The new Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests covering every feature of automobile value and performance—from the time of purchase to the final trade-in. Here the Ford policy of not making yearly changes serves to protect and maintain the investment of every Ford owner. All improvements in the new Ford are made so that present owners may take advantage of them quickly and at low cost.

The economy of good service at a fair price

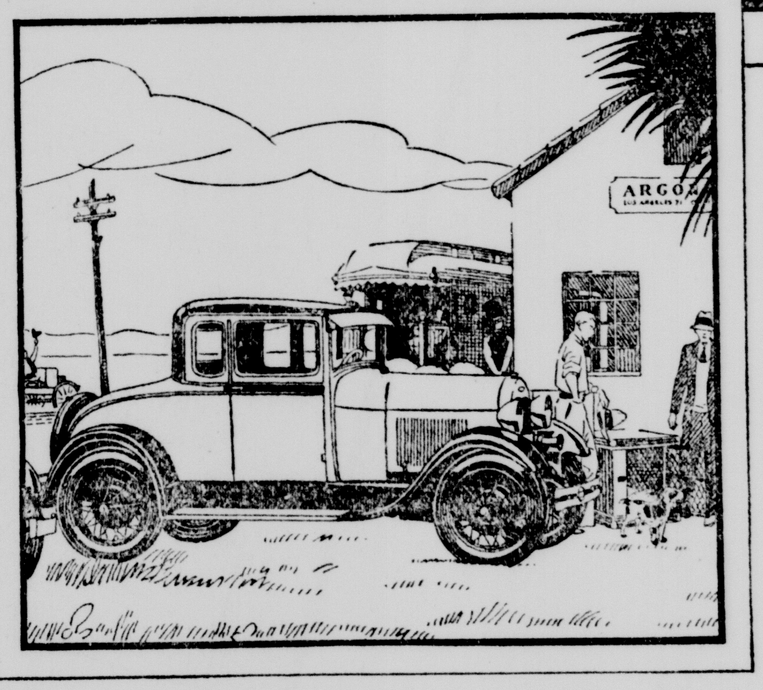

The availability of Ford dealers throughout the world and close factory supervision of all service are additional reasons for the economy of the new Ford.

It has always been our belief that a sale does not complete the transaction between us and the buyer but establishes a new obligation on us to see that his car gives him service. We are as much interested in his economical operation of the car as he is in our economical manufacture of it.

For that reason we have installed a system of controlled service to take care of all Ford car needs in an economical and improved manner. We wish all Ford owners to know what they are entitled to in this respect so that they may readily avail themselves of this service.

Ford service more important than sales

This service begins with proper instruction when you buy the car and includes a free inspection at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. It continues as long as you are a Ford owner.

The new Ford Tudor Sedan. A splendid family car because of its economy, comfort, safety, reliability, speed, power, acceleration and ease of operation and control. Finished in a choice of beautiful two-tone color harmonies. Richly upholstered. All appointments fully nickeled.

The new Ford Coupe is a particularly good example of beauty and utility. Built to serve you faithfully and well for many thousands of miles. Equipped with Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and four Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers.

No matter where you live or where you go, you will never be very far from a Ford dealer who has been specially trained and equipped to give you courteous, intelligent, economical service. The cost of new parts is low because of the established Ford policy of doing business at a small margin of profit.

The purpose of Ford service is identical with that for which the car itself was built—to help you get many thousands of miles of pleasant, enjoyable motoring at a minimum of trouble and expense. "Good performance with economy" is the reason for the unusual value that is brought to you in the new Ford.

COLLEGE CO-EDS SCORE TRIUMPH

Present Musical Comedy At New Wilmington On Saturday Night

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 14.—A cast of nearly 40 Westminster college co-eds scored a decided hit in the production of "My Spanish Sweetheart", a musical comedy, in the Community house here Saturday night.

The comedy, under the auspices of the college Y. W. C. A., was directed by Miss Ruby Guilliams of the conservatory faculty. Mary Sowerby of Cumberland, Maryland, and Gretchen Turner of Erie coached the dancing.

Miss Ruth Lewis, New Castle, May queen-elect, scored a hit in the leading role as Jimmy the Yankee guide, and Miss Mary Lou Braham of Butler also added much to the play in her role as Tommy the Yankee guide.

Others in leading roles were: Mary Eckles, Sharpsville, as Carlita; Irene Haney, Sharon, as May Marchmont; Louise Adams, New Wilmington, as Sue Larchmont; Frances Leohner, New Castle, as Juan the Toreador; Gladys Ziegler, Evans City, as Don Pedro; Margaret Reed, Butler, as Mrs. Pemberton Smythe; and Elizabeth Rose, New Wilmington, as the Stadholder.

The plot is concerned with a group of English girls with a chaperone and two Yankee guides in Holland. A company of Spanish entertainers are on hand for the tulip festival. Complications arise when Jimmy and Tommy, the guides, mix things up by falling in love with a number of different girls in succession.

Lively songs, good dancing, excellent acting, good music, all set off by well-designed costumes and scenery, made the presentation one of the best seen here in years.

David Wallace and Katherine Boobyer painted the stage scenery which depicted a public square in a Holland town. The cubistic effect produced by the two student-artists was very clever.

Miss Claire Gross, a member of the sophomore class, and Miss Guilliams, the director, were the accompanists for the comedy.

Members of the freshman cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. had a candy booth in the ball where home-made candy was sold. The proceeds, for Y. W. C. A. work on the campus and in foreign fields, were larger than in previous years.

Earle Jones Given Five To Ten Years For Killing Wife

Judge Galbreath Of Butler County Sentences Garage Man To Penitentiary

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 14.—Judge Jas. M. Galbreath Saturday sentenced J. Earle Jones, 38 to five to ten years in the Western penitentiary in the death of his wife Nellie Adams, 33 who disappeared from her home in Butler October 19. Jones was convicted December 22 on the charge of manslaughter.

Jones was convicted on the testimony that a few bones found in the ruins of an abandoned house southwest of Butler burned on the night of Mrs. Jones disappearance were those of a human being.

A wrist watch, two diamond rings and a wedding ring also found in the ashes were identified as the property of Mrs. Jones.

When Jones was placed under arrest he denied knowledge of the whereabouts of Mrs. Jones. Later he signed what was reported to be a confession prepared by state and county police but when placed on the witness stand Jones repudiated the statement that his wife had been accidentally shot in a quarrel and that he had burned her body.

Hit-Run Drivers Take Eight Lives In Period Of Week

Eight Also Seriously Injured By Motorists Who Fail To Stop After Wrecks

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—The toll of hit and run drivers during last week was eight dead, eight seriously injured and five others hurt, the department of highways announced.

Ten of the drivers blamed were arrested and two others surrendered while the cases were being investigated by the motor patrol.

A Philadelphia driver who killed a woman in March surrendered last week when he learned the owner of the car had been arrested charged with the offense.

Partly hidden, dirty and oscillating tags help hit and run drivers to escape, Benjamin G. Eynon, registrar of motor vehicles said. Members of the motor patrol have been instructed to continue their drive against car owners with plates which cannot be read easily.

Can Still Collect Burial Expenses

Expenses Of Funerals Of World War Veterans Can Still Be Secured

Various burial expenses relative to the funerals of World war soldiers who were killed in service between April 6, 1917, and July 2, 1921, can still be collected from the United States Veterans' bureau at Washington, D. C. One hundred dollars can be allowed on expenses incurred by relatives, providing the services rendered were not duplicates of those furnished by the war department.

According to Executive Secretary Pat J. Dempsey of the American Red Cross here, who made this announcement, there are some exceptions where it is impossible to collect the money. For instance, if the casket for the deceased was furnished by the war department, the bureau will not pay for another casket that the family may have purchased. The new claims are designed solely to cover additional expenses incurred by the family of the deceased soldier, after the body was received at home.

Legitimate claims that would not involve duplication with the war department are undertaker's fees, chapel fees, hearse fees, carriage fees, digging of the grave, including the materials used in walling or lining the grave. The bureau will also pay for the plot of burial ground, except where burial was made in a plot owned by the family of the deceased. Also necessary fee for the minister, music or other religious service not to exceed $15.

According to Mr. Dempsey, this matter should be brought to a close now if the persons interested desired to do so some time. He will be glad to assist any who desire additional information if they call at the office of the Red Cross in the Temple building.

Senate Forced To Speed Work

Only Seven Weeks Of "Lame Duck" Sessions Left For Senate; Work Piles Up

HOUSE CALENDAR IN GOOD SHAPE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—With but seven weeks of its so-called "lame duck" session remaining, the senate today was facing a legislative jam of real proportions while the house was prepared to cost along easily until the final bell before inauguration on March 4.

Enactment of legislation of extraordinary importance but fewer additions to the statute books than usual was in prospect as a result of the great difference in the condition of the calendars of the two houses.

The senate not only had the troublesome Kellogg multilateral treaty and the 15 cruiser bill on its hands, but has pending the confirmation of Secretary of Interior Roy O. West, confirmation of members of the Federal Radio commission, the "Hoover" prohibition investigation, reapportionment, coal and radio legislation, Caraway anti-cotton gambling bill, the Nicaraguan canal route survey, and scores of other measures of lesser importance.

The house, having disposed of some of the most important of the annual supply bills, which will total more than $4,000,000,000 and the Fenn reapportionment bill, was casting about for other measures upon which to center its attention.

Coulthard Tells Of Safety Work

P.-O. Company Local Superintendent Speaks On Traffic Here

IS DAY'S SPEAKER AT ROTARY CLUB

Chris C. Coulthard, district superintendent of the Pennsylvania-Ohio Electric company in New Castle, delivered the address at today's meeting of the New Castle Rotary club at The Castleton. Coulthard spoke on "Traffic", a subject in which he is well versed after superintending the operations of the electric railway system of the city for some years past.

Mr. Coulthard, also a member of the Rotary club, said that he considered it an honr to say a few words on this subject to the club. He said he is no expert, but only a graduate of the great university of experience and hard knocks. For almost 30 years he has controlled street car operations here.

"I feel that I am the happiest man in all the world," continued Coulthard. "Our company just last week was awarded the medal for operating the safest street car system in the world. That's why. But I don't deserve the credit for winning this great honor. It's the men who haul you each day, the street car operators, the bus and coach drivers that won the tribute. They are the ones who were actually responsible for it.

"How is this great job of transporting the people of the city done? you might say. Well, it's a world-wide problem that affects each city and hamlet. It's not the easiest job in the world by any means. But we have requirements like any concern, that must be abided by. A man works for our company just so long as he is careful. When he shows signs of carelessness he is removed. In 1928 there were millions of persons carried by the P. and O. system, but during all that time not one single fatality occurred.

"The law says that we must operate our street cars not over 8 miles per hour. The truth of the matter is they are seldom operated over 7 miles an hour. But when we consider that in one day, although operating the cars at the speed we do, the P. and O. here, buses and cars, carry 18,000 persons, we feel as if nothing more on our part can hardly be done. Let me turn to the automobile, traffic's chief offendor. Now in speaking of the automobile I don't intend to take a crack at the autoists, I just want to present real honest-to-goodness facts. If we can transport 18,000 persons in one day, operating at 7 miles an hour as we do, why can't someone else, the motorists, slow down a little more."

Then Mr. Coulthard went on to mention certain traffic hazards that at present exist in the towntown section. He said drastic action should be resorted to immediately to prevent accidents from happening there. Other figures he cited, too all of which brought out phases of his company's safety policy in street car, bus and motor coach transportation.

Superintendent Coulthard's talk was one of the most enthusiastic the club has heard recently. It created real civic spirit among the members in the club's effort to abolish traffic hazards and to instill a "safety first" habit here.

Fight Flu With Milk, Soft Boiled Eggs

You can help to guard against the Flu by eating only good wholesome food, such as soft-boiled eggs, oatmeal, milk. Get lots of sleep. Keep away from crowds and drink lots of water. And MOST IMPORTANT be sure to keep the bowels open. The best intestinal cleanser is the simple glycerin, buckthorn bark, saline, compound, known as Adlerika. This acts in ½ to 2 hours on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only).

Adlerika often brings out foul matter, which may have poisoned you for months and which you would never believe was in your system.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, well-known New York bacteriologist, after testing Adlerika on living subjects, reports: "Adlerika markedly reduces the number of bacteria and colon bacill, in addition to its intestinal cleansing action."

Give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel! Just ONE spoonful gives wonderful relief in chronic constipation, GAS bloating, sour stomach and sick headache. No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you.

It contains no aloes, calomel or senna, therefore acting without griping or discomfort of any kind. Adlerika is sold by leading druggists in tin-foiled bottles.

"Hex" Slayers Appeal Cases

Blymyer And Curry Will Enter Appeals For New Trials In York Court

WILBERT HESS FACES TEN-YEAR SENTENCE

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Jan. 14.—York county's "hex" murder trials were practically completed today. Wilbert G. Hess, 18, the third defendant to be tried for the slaying of Nelson D. Rehmeyer, alleged "witch", was convicted of second degree murder late Saturday night.

Formal sentence, however, cannot be passed on John Blymyer, 32, powwow doctor, and John Curry, 14, the other two defendants, who were convicted of first degree murder, until the appeals for new trials filed by their counsel have been acted upon by Judge Ray P. Sherwood. The judge was expected to hold a hearing on the appeals within the next few days.

Blymyers and Curry will probably be sentenced to life imprisonment, in accordance with the recommendations of the jurors, if their appeals are withdrawn or if Judge Sherwood rules adversely. Hess faces a sentence of from 10 to 20 years in the Eastern penitentiary.

If Judge Sherwood rules favorably on the appeals of Curry and Blymyers, the cases will probably not be tried until the next session of the criminal court in April.

District Attorney Amos W. Herrmann indicated today that he may place the testimony of Blymyer regarding the prevalence of powwowing in this district before state officials who are investigating alleged violations of the medical licensure law which provides that the healing cannot be practiced without a license. He refused, however, to definitely commit himself.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—H. T. Tate, treasurer of the United States, has requested Secretary Mellon to recall his nomination as treasurer which was sent to the Senate last spring by President Coolidge, it was announced today.

Since his nomination to succeed former Treatsurer Frank White, Tate has been under fire. Rep. Wood (R) of Indiana, objected to Tate's appointment on the ground that Frank J. Thiel, assistant treasurer should have been promoted to the position because of Thiel's seniority, issued the followihg statement.

"At the time of my nomination last spring, Rep. Wood expressed vigorous opposition to the confirmation of my appointment with the claim that another should have been appointed. His opposition having prevented confirmation to date I have formally requested Secretary Mellon by letter to recall my nomination in order to avoid any possible embarrassment to the department."

LAWRENCE COUNTY'S MASTER CLEANERS FOR 15 YEARS.

Thousands Attend Shenango Motors Opening Saturday

Some 7,000 Persons Visit New Shenango Motor Co. Home Saturday

New Modern Fireproof Auto Plant Is Formally Opened Here

MAX LUDWIG.

Some 7,000 persons attended the formal opening Saturday of the new Shenango Motor Company home which is located on West Washington street directly across from the Pennsylvania Railroad station.

At 9 o'clock in the morning the doors were swung wide open for the long files of New Castle and Lawrence county people who came to view the cars, the offices, the ramps, the various departments, in fact all of the hundred and one things which may be found in the building.

The building, as those thousands who visited know, is one of the finest automobile plants in Pennsylvania. Many telegrams of congratulation from far and near have been received by Max Ludwig, president of the company, and Ford and Lincoln company officials are more than pleased at the new magnificent and fire proof structure.

Until after midnight, the doors were kept open and at no time of the day was the huge building void of visitors. The entire staff of 65 men and women were at work from early morning until late at night showing the visitors throughout the seven ramp floors which are contained in the structure.

Prizes for Visitors.

Free prizes were given to all visitors. There was no charge for tickets and every one who visited had an equal opportunity to get a new Ford car, batteries, and various accessories. The drawing did not take place on Saturday due to the large crowds but will occur this next Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock, states A. H. Bartlett, secretary and treasurer of the concern.

The new building is undoubtedly the finest which has ever been attempted in this city and is also one of the finest, modern structures to be found any where in the country. It is modern to the last minute, fire proof and each floor connected by ramps.

The ramp system of driveways gives the building seven different floor levels which are all connected. This makes it possible to drive a car from the basement to the top floor without any inconvenience or the use of slow elevators.

On the first level of the new battle ship brick structure, one finds the washing, and car greasing rooms as well as the boilers; the second level contains the stock room, transformer room, a tool room, service and brake testing service rooms are found on the third level; fourth level, sales room and offices; fifth level, new car show rooms; level six, used car department; and on the seventh level is the paint shop and miscellaneous storage department.

Many Congratulations.

The above is the content of the huge structure in a nutshell. Representatives of motor companies from other cities were delighted with the building and acclaimed it one of the finest that they had ever seen. New Castle and Lawrence county residents present were also unanimous in their declaration as to the completeness of the structure.

Heading the huge force of 65 of salesmen, clerical force members, mechanics and other laborers are Max Ludwig, president; A. H. Bartlett, secretary and treasurer; Robert Taylor, Ford sales manager; William Miller, service manager; James Kerr, Lincoln sales manager; Earl Harlan, accountant; and James Francis, parts manager.

The new company, though doing some business prior to their official opening, is now ready to service all cars at their new and up to date plant.

ALL PLAYED OUT

She (learning to drive)—But can't I have the man who instructed me yesterday?

Manager—No, madam. He's definitely given up teaching.—Passing Show.

Legion Visitors Going To Butler And Grove City

Trips In The Interest Of National Commander McNutt's Visit In February

Members of the visitation committee of the local post of the American Legion will visit posts of nearby cities tonight in the interest of the coming National Commander's banquet to be held in the Cathedral dining room here on the evening of February 12.

Part of the group will journey to Butler where a joint meeting of the Butler and Slippery Rock legionnaires is to be held, while the others will attend the meeting that the Grove City post will hold. Entertainment in the form of moving pictures will be provided by members of the local committee. A film showing scenes of the Legion convention at Paris in 1927, ordered for the visitation work and just received this morning will be shown at one of the meetings tonight.

Harry M. Long, who leads the visitors as chairman, states that the personal visitation work is meeting with great success.

The bowling alleys at The Cathedral is the especial work of the committee headed by Leon Drumm of the Legion of Honor, and in the near future, states Captain Melvin L. Craig, commander of the Legion some action will be taken.

No Excess Fat

It's easy to avoid

Everybody knows that excess fat is nowhere near so common as it was. Mothers look like daughters. Slender figures are the rule. You should know how scientific research has brought this change about.

Science has discovered that a great cause of excess fat lies in a deficient gland. No starvation, no over-work can cure it. The cause must be corrected, and that lies in a gland which largely controls nutrition.

Modern physicians, in treating obesity, attack that cause. They supply the lack. That is why excess fat has so fast disappeared in late years. Slender figures are the vogue.

A great medical laboratory, years ago, embodied this new method in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for over 20 years—millions of boxes of them. You see the results wherever you look. There is new youth and beauty, new health and vitality. Excess fat is nowhere near as common as it was.

Do what these people have done—multitudes of them, for 21 years. They have seen the fat go, seen new youth and vigor come back. Friends all about you will testify to that.

Every box of Marmola contains the formula, also the reasons for results. You will know exactly why these good effects appear. Get back to normal weight in this scientific way. Fat is a disease. You will benefit in many ways when the cause is ended. Start now.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

Flu Creating Phenomenal Demand for Vicks VapoRub

Although the flu itself is not so serious as in 1918, authorities stress the importance of taking every possible precaution for fear of the complications which invade the weakened system after a flu-attack.

They urge, especially, prompt treatment of every cold, as colds lower the body resistance and make it easier for flu or pneumonia to get a foothold.

That the public is heeding this warning is indicated by the phenomenal demand for Vicks VapoRub, the famous external treatment which leaped to fame almost overnight during the 1918 epidemic. In spite of tripled capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating night and day, and 375,000 jars are now being produced every 24 hours.

Quicker, whiter washing . . .

Without wear on the sheerest fabrics—not a moving part inside the tub

CLOTHES are washed quicker, easier, and more thoroughly in the New Gainaday Electric Washer. A few pieces or ten pounds of dry clothes—it makes no difference. Swirling water action does the work, set up by the quick alternating swing of the extra capacity tub.

Beautifully finished in heavy nickel and sheet steel. All mechanism is completely covered. Yardstick high and only 24 inches in diameter. Nothing to get out of order . . . the fewest moving parts possible . . . the simplest washing machine made.

No stooping and no trouble to drain or clean—the Gainaday is designed for women. The automatic wringer is adjustable in five different positions for either right or left hand use. The extra large balloon rollers will not break buttons, hooks, or snaps. Run the clothes from machine to rinsing water, to bluing, to basket—lifting of heavy wet clothes has been done away with.

The materials in this machine are the best. The simplicity of the mechanism practically eliminates all trouble. One oil hole cares for all lubrication in the body of the machine. The perfect balance of the tub eliminates all noise and vibration.

A demonstration in your home—without obligation—will convince you of the many points of superiority of the New Gainaday Electric Washer.

Discovers That "Thumber" He Gave Lift In His Car Was Edward Kaltenbaugh

Frank B. Brenneman of 418 East Garfield avenue, this city, a salesman for the Pitt Sales company here, today declared to a reporter of The News that he was unaware of the fact that the young man who hailed him as he was driving enroute from Ellwood City to Evans City last Tuesday morning was Edward Kaltenbaugh, confessed murderer of Bertha and John Oser of Canal Fulton, O. Nevertheless, Brenneman says he hauled him.

It was on Tuesday morning around 10 o'clock that the local salesman left Ellwood City for Zelienople to do some calling there. He had left Ellwood behind and had proceeded some distance along the route when he came upon a young fellow by the side of the road "thumbing" towards Zelienople. Brenneman was alone in the coupe that he was driving, and as most everyone, especially salesmen, are prone to do in a case like this, he stopped and took the fellow in. Brenneman knew he would be company for him and at the same time he would be giving the boy a lift.

Brenneman pulled to the right side of the road and the fellow asked if he could ride with him as far as he was going. "Butler," Kaltenbaugh said, was his destination. Brenneman told him he was going to Zelienople and the now self-confessed murderer said O. K. and jumped in. But the story goes on until Zelienople is reached, then on to Evans City. But we're letting Brenneman tell the story as he gave it to us.

"The fellow was wearing an overcoat, evidently the one he had taken from Mr. Oser after the murder, and was dressed fairly well. When he first stepped in he offered me a cigar, but for some reason I didn't take it. He lit a cigar and smoked continually all along the way. He chatted quite a bit too, and didn't act a particle suspicious as one would usually do.

"It wasn't very long until Zelienople was reached and on the outskirts I told him I had to make some calls there. He said he would get out and go on towards Evans City and then to Butler, where he said he was going to leave for a place near Altoona, where he claimed he had obtained a job on a farm. Well, we were in the town by then, and Kaltenbaugh got out, thanked me for the ride and said 'so long'.

"I didn't think anything about the chap for a while and went on ahead and made my calls. I made about two or three visits, and as I wanted to get to Evans City decided to hurry along on the road again.

"I wasn't very far out of Zelienople until I ran across Kaltenbaugh 'bumming' again, and stopped and picked him up. He told me he had eaten his dinner back in Zelienople and that was the reason he wasn't any farther along than he was. I told him I was going right to Evans City and would be glad to take him the entire distance and told him he ought to be able to get a ride from there to Butler easily.

"Then he began talking about his job on the farm near Altoona, saying that he was just going to stop in Butler for a short while. All along the distance I kept talking to him and he didn't appear to be a bit nervous. He was rather talkative too. He seemed to speak intelligently of what he was going to do and all about his affairs. I didn't think for a moment that he was the slayer of the couple I had read about in the papers the night before. His pictures hadn't been published in the papers yet, or I would have been able to recognize him. The moment I saw the picture in the paper I knew it was the fellow I'd hauled. I hadn't asked him what his name was on the trip.

"After spending about a half hour with him along the route, including the time that I gave him the first lift, we reached Evans City. He didn't ask to get out while we were at the outskirts of Evans City at all. I told him I would take him to the main part of the town and he didn't object a bit. He acted perfectly natural all the time. Finally he got out and said 'thanks' and 'so long' again and left. That was the last I saw of him.

"When I returned home again I didn't think for one second that I had given the murderer a lift. But when the papers came out the next day I recognized the picture of the fellow at once. What he told police when he confessed the killings corroborated with everything that had happened while he was with me."

Brenneman states that he doesn't know whether he'll be so liberal in giving lifts after this or not. He says he likes to do it and help get the "thumbers" as he can, but just whether he'll stop again he hasn't definitely decided.

Allege Driver Of Auto Intoxicated

When T. E. Fleming, Moore avenue, drove his car into the post office yard Saturday complaint was made at once to the police here and Officers Thompson and Letera answered the call and found Fleming apparently in a drunken condition and attempting to drive his car. POLICE OFFICER PURSUES AUTO

Arrests Driver On Charge Of Being Intoxicated As Result

As Motorcycle Officer Criswell was making his rounds Saturday evening, he noticed a car at South Mill and South Croton avenue, which seemed to be wandering from side to side and out of proper control. The car started east on South Croton avenue and the officers started after it.

The officer tried several times to have the driver stop but without success, until he stopped the driver of the machine at the foot of the Croton avenue hill. The man who gave the name of Nelson E. Drake was found to be considerably under the influence of liquor, when examined at the central police station.

This morning he was taken before Alderman O. H. P. Green, where he was formally charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. He waived his right to a hearing and gave bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the March term of court.

While in the cell with a number of other prisoners, Drake was attacked by one of the other prisoners and badly beaten about the face, until the police heard the trouble and removed him to another cell.

LARGE AUDIENCES GREETS EVANGELIST AT PRIMITIVE CHURCH

In spite of the intense cold weather Evangelist Howard Sweeten of Ashley, Ill., was greeted with a large audience at the opening services of a series of evangelistic meetings in the Primitive Methodist church, South Mill and Maitland streets this city Sunday.

At the morning service Rev. Sweeten took his text from Hebrews 2:1. He exorted the people to give the gospel an honest hearing without being prejudiced, fault finding or criticel. The people should co-operate with the church the evangelist declared.

In the evening the evangelist spoke from James 5:16 in which he stressed the value of prayer. The first requisition is that a praying person must be right with God. No man can live wrong and pray right. There must be definte a subject to pray for and there must be a sense of need of prayer the speaker said.

The meetings will continue each evening this week with the exception of Saturday.

Police Called To Settle Quarrel

Saturday night, a call was received to the effect that there was trouble at the home of Matti Joki's home, 638½ South Ray street.

This started a fight and when the officers arrived and found out the particulars, they placed Tervo, who was drunk, under arrest. He was charged with being drunk and disorderly and fined $10.

When arrested Tervo claimed to have a horse and wagon in the vicinity and the officer searched but could not find it. Later the horse and wagon were located in the rear of the Fourth ward fire department and placed in a downtown stable.

At noon today, Tervo had still failed to claim his horse and wagon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. — The State department would not confirm today the reported appointment of J. P. Morgan as one of the American delegates to the forthcoming meetings of the reparations commission.

Secretary of State Kellogg said he had "heard Mr. Morgan's name mentioned" along with other prominent American bankers and business men, but declared he had no official knowledge of Mr. Morgan's reported selection.

If the allied governments do choose Mr. Morgan, it was said, the appointment would be satisfactory to this government.

Evangelistic Services Well Attended Sunday

Hundreds Of Men Hear Evangelist Give Sermon For Men Only In the Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14—Services at the First Christian church on Sunday were well attended. The campaign which has been waged by Rev. Graham Walker of Kentucky for the past two weeks will proceed through this week, closing next Sunday evening.

At the Bible school hour the evangelist gave an illustrated lecture to the junior members of the church on "The Church School."

At 2:30 in the afternoon Rev. Walker gave an address for men only and several hundred men filled the auditorium. He talked to men as men, bringing a man's message. He called upon men to be men physically, morally, mentally and spiritually. He also lauded the work done in the public schools in training boys and girls for citizenship.

At the evening service his topic, "Why I Am Not a Campbellite", was most interesting as well as his sermon at 11 a. m. on "The Magnetic Church."

At all services there were special musical numbers, including solos by Ted Jones and Mrs. A. J. Howell, numbers by the chorus choir and piano selections by Stanley Evans. This evening Rev. Walker will talk on "The Latest News From Hell."

Both Caused By Defective Flues, Is Opinion Of Fire Chief Plant

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Two fire alarms were turned in over the week end to the local department. The first occurred about 6:30 Sunday evening when a two story brick building housing a grocery store and apartment, occupied by Rocco Zappiea had a partition ignite from a defective flue. The department responded quickly and put out the blaze before it had chance to do any more than about $20 damage.

The second call came at 9:30 this morning when the residence at 227 Fountain avenue, owned by Mrs. Charles Helling of Second street and occupied by John Brady, was noticed to be scorching the wall paper in one of the rooms, the cause of which was an overheated flue. The fire was quickly extinguished and no damage reported.

Two Fast Cames Of Basketball At Shelby Club

Crowds Increasing As Floor Teams Show Fast Headwork And Footwork In Games

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Two fast basket-ball games at the Shelby Saturday night gave devotees a thrill. The hall was packed to the last seat, and rang with cheers continually for favorite players, and good plays.

The first game, which was between the Specialty department and the Hot mills resulted in a score of 31-24 in favor of the first mentioned. There was no outstanding player on the Specialty team, but smooth teamwork gradually downed the other quintet. MacDonald was an outstanding player on the Hot Mills five, and Wick Earton, who was sent in at the last half, showed exceptional prowess.

The second game, the faster of the two, was staged between the Inspection department and Mechanical department.

The final score, after many hectic and breathless moments, was 26-25, in favor of the Inspection team. The last two points were made by Kimes during the last four seconds of play, when he shot a sensational basket from the center of the floor bringing victory to his team, and frenzy to the rooters.

Wednesday evening there will be two more departmental games, the first between the Hot Mills and the Inspection and the second between the Office and the Mechanical.

ACTUAL LETTERS FROM COL. DANIEL LEASURE

under federal control. The major portion of foreign commerce had long since centered itself in ports above the Potomac. Most of the foreign goods destined for the south had poured through the warehouses of northern cities. More than two-thirds of the banking capital was in northern hands. The north had an almost complete monopoly of the science and skilled labor necessary to furnish the sinews of warfare. The real revolution had occurred before the southern states had asserted their independence. The planters could accept the inevitable either in peace or in battle. Secretary of State Seward had warned.

"Charleston Mercury. EXTRA. Passed unanimously at 1:15 o'clock, p. m., December 20th, 1860. An ordinance to dissolve the Union between the state of South Carolina and the other states united with her under the compact entitled 'The Constitution of the United States of America.' . . . THE UNION IS DISSOLVED!"

Incensed by the election of Abraham Lincoln to the presidency of the country, on November 10, 1860, the South Carolina legislature unanimously passed a bill calling a popular convention to choose a course proper to the emergency. The above bulletin reports the result. The convention was brilliant and high spirited. Old men—too old to fight but not too old to let the Lincoln menace go unchallenged—were the delegates. And amid pompous ceremonies, the old men declared the Union dissolved. Not only that, but they called on their sister states of the south also to secede before Lincoln was inaugurated. Six states answered immediately—Florida, Alabama, Mississippa, Louisiana, Georga and Texas. Delegates were sent to Montgomery, Ala., in February, 1861, to plan a union and to establish a new general government. Jefferson Davis, politician and soldier, was chosen as its temporary head.

Just what Colonel Daniel Leasure of New Castle was doing at this time is unknown. Nor is it divulged in his letters how his regiment was recruited. In fact, the first word from him comes long after the above events. The first letter from Leasure is dated September 5, 1861, from camp at Kalarama Hilul, near Washington.

"We arrived here on yesterday," the letter reads, "and after getting our dinner at the soldiers' food house, we went into this camp.

"The regiment went to camp under Capt. Armstrong, my senior captain, while I went to report myself to headquarters. Owing to sickness of the Adjt. (A. Leslie) I had to be field staff and quartermaster. I got tents, blankets, provisions, fuel and camp equipage complete and got into camp after dark and occupied the empty tents of the N. Y. 79th (Highlanders) who had gone on an expedition into Virginia and left their camp standing.

"D. LEASURE."

The next letter from Col. Leasure is dated September 8 from the camp. "I commence tomorrow to arm and clothe the regiment," it states tersely.

"Camp Kalaroma,
"Sept. 18, 1861.

"At present I am acting brigade general commanding the 4th Provisional brigade, including my own regiment and Col. McKnight's and some unbrigaded detachments. Am in the department of General Casey. Regiment is recruited up to 12 companies. I sent Lieuts. Tidball and Ross home day before yesterday accompanied by Ferris McMillen and Sergt. Calhoun to recruit for the camp. We are arrived and equipped, but not uniformed.

"DANIEL LEASURE."

"Camp Kalaroma,
"Sept. 22, 1861.

"I have under command in addition to my own regiment the 1st Michigan, the 27th Indiana, 47th Pennsylvania and the Wild Cat regiments.

"DANIEL LEASURE."

"The president of the United States told me in the parting and the only interview that I had with him, that the expedition consisted of picked troops and that he had great hopes from it. He told me confidentially that he would be down to see us before we sailed and paid me a very handsome compliment, intended only for my own private ear. Col. Ekin could not join the regiment and Maj. Armstrong was made Lieut. Col., and Capt. Lecky of Co. M, was made major.

Lady, 70, Says It Ended Terrible Stomach Trouble

Thinks Ten Herbs Is Wonderful Medicine; Helped In Many Ways.

"Ten Herbs ended my terrible stomach trouble," was the recent statement of Mrs. Nannie J. Daugherty, 620 Centre Avenue, Butler, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East

MRS. NANNIE DAUGHERTY

Washington St., this city, where he is daily demonstrating this famous new compound. "I think your medicine is wonderful," continued Mrs. Daugherty, who is 70 years of age.

"I used to be laid up with stomach trouble for days at a time. Sometimes I would vomit for a day and a night. My appetite was very poor, and I could eat scarcely anything because of the suffering that would follow. Gas and bloating gave me a terrible lot of trouble—had to get up all hours of the night. There were cramps in my stomach and pains and pressure around my heart. I also had heartburn. My nerves bothered me, and I could not sleep well. I had the worst kind of dizzy spells and headaches. There were awful pains across my back, and when I sat down it was very hard for me to arise. My face would swell and there were puffs around my eyes. My vision would be blurred and specks would come before my eyes. I would feel all worn-out. My muscles and joints would get sore and stiff, and my feet would swell.

"A friend mentioned Ten Herbs to me, and I also read about your medicine in the paper. I started using it and the results have been very satisfactory. My stomach is in the best condition. My appetite is fine, and I can eat anything without having distress afterwards. Gas, bloating and pains are gone. My nerves are quiet. I sleep soundly and arise in the morning without those dizzy spells or headaches. The soreness has left my joints and muscles, and the pains are gone from across my back. I no longer have that worn-out feeling. Ten Herbs deserves my endorsement.

Protect yourself from influenza and other serious diseases. Build up resisting power by letting Ten Herbs cleanse and tone up your whole system and especially benefit your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

New Castle High Case Up Thursday Before Committee

Decisions Committee To Wrestle With New Castle Brief And Affadavit Thursday

According to a report published in Pittsburgh, the Decisions committee of the W. P. I. A. L. will convene on Thursday night, January 17th, to review the recent New Castle suspension, and also air the charges brought to the attention of the committee concerning Robert Howe of Beaver Falls.

Just what action, and just what conclusions the Decisions committee will reach at their meeting this week is a matter of conjecture. The committee if they find that Beaver Falls has also violated the eligibility code of the league, by playing Robert Howe, can not very easily continue the New Castle suspension.

Beaver Falls has already been awarded the trophy indicative of the championship of Western Pennsylvania, will the Decisions committee take the cup back again? If Beaver Falls is guilty of violation they must ordinarily be punished by the committee in much the same manner that the august body of men sought to place New Castle's integrity at stake.

Officer Wysner Sees Strange Bird Sunday

Sunday morning Officer James Wysner while in the vicinity of the West Washington street bridge over the Shenango river saw two women on the bridge looking excitedly up the river from the bridge.

The officer hurried to the point where the ladies were standing and looking up the stream, saw a white bird, the like of which he had never seen before and of almost eagle like proportions attempting to fly down stream against the high winds and in the midst of the snow flurries.

The bird kept up its fight against the wind and although driven back from time to time, because of its size and apparent gigantic power of its wings kept on down stream until out of sight.

The officer described the bird to many persons, none of whom have recognized it. It is believed to be some bird of some other district which had been forced by the storm far from its native haunts.

Old Folks Say Doctor Caldwell was Right

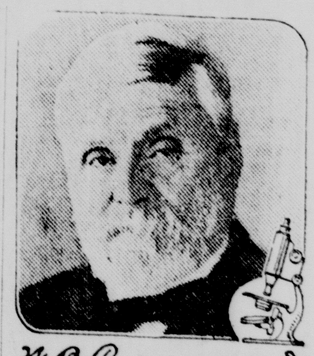

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the baby because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

Do give it a trial, to prove how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours.

The Story Of The Panama Canal—Part 19
The Lock System At Panama

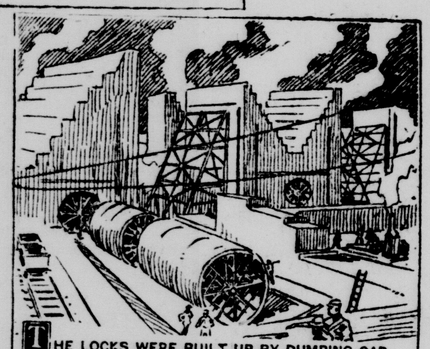

ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING FEATURES OF THE PANAMA CANAL IS THE MAMMOTH LOCKS WHICH RAISE AND LOWER SHIPS TO THE VARIOUS LEVELS OF THE WATERWAY. THERE ARE TWELVE LOCKS, ARRANGED IN PAIRS, THREE PAIRS AT GATUN, ONE AT PEDRO MIGUEL AND TWO AT MIRAFLORES.

EACH LOCK IS A GIGANTIC CONCRETE TANK, 1,000 FEET LONG AND 110 FEET WIDE, ALLOWING SUFFICIENT SPACE TO ACCOMODATE THE LARGEST SHIP YET AFLOAT. THE LOCKS ARE CLOSED AT BOTH ENDS BY MASSIVE STEEL GATES. VESSELS ARE TOWED THROUGH THE LOCKS BY ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVES.

THE GATES WERE MADE AT PITTSBURGH AND COST $5,000,000, THE COST OF THE ENTIRE LOCK SYSTEM AMOUNTING TO $58,000,000. THE CONCRETE MIXING PLANTS ESTABLISHED AT GATUN AND MIRAFLORES FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE LOCKS WERE THE LARGEST IN THE WORLD.

THE LOCKS WERE BUILT UP BY DUMPING CARLOADS OF CONCRETE INTO HUGE STEEL FRAMES. THE LOCKS ARE FILLED WITH WATER THROUGH CULVERTS, 18 FEET IN DIAMETER AND EQUIPPED WITH ELECTRICALLY OPERATED VALVES, IN THE OUTSIDE AND CENTER WALLS. THREE HOURS OF THE PASSAGE THROUGH THE CANAL IS SPENT IN GOING THROUGH THE LOCKS.

MASON AND ESTERBROOK CLASH TONIGHT

Scheduled To Go 10 Rounds

Both Middleweights Reputed To Have Powerful Right Punch

CARPENTIER AND SMALLWOOD MEET

Bill Jolly, connoisseur of Pugnacious Youth, will present another Drama in Punch tonight at Jolly bowl and the impressario believes the fistic entertainment will be featured by knockouts. Johnny Mason, formerly of Scranton, now of Cincinnati and Ted Esterbrook, Niles, middleweights, are scheduled to box in the main bout of ten rounds.

U. S. Carpentier, New Kensington and Chet Smallwood, Akron, 130 pounders will step out in the six round semi-final. Three other bouts are calendared.

Mason and Esterbrook have never fought each other. Neither has appeared here. Mason started his 'pro' career at Port Jervis, N. Y., migrated to Scranton and when his pugilistic itinerary carried him to Cincinnati landed in the lap of Dame Luck.

He stretched more than a dozen and a half adversaries on the floor after reaching Cincinnati. Some of the fights were held in Cincinnati, Louisville, Dayton and in the state of Indiana. Mason believes that he is due for greater things and hopes to stop Ted.

Outpoints Chet Thomas

Esterbrook, when he first started, looked mighty good. He boxed many times in Youngstown and other Ohio rings. When he journeyed midwest the eye of local fans did not see him in action. However, he returned to an Erie ring recently and outpointed Chet Thomas.

Mason knocked out Jack Dillon. That is something worthy of comment. Any fighter who can penetrate Dillon's turtle defense ought to get somewhere. Mason hopes tonight to use Esterbrook as an illustration and show the punch that rolled Dillon.

If Esterbrook is to continue in the pugilistic limelight of the Tri-State section he will have to be as good or better than Mason. Like Johnny he is a right hand puncher. He is not blessed with science but depends on a wading-in style and 'sock' to win.

When two 160-pounders get together action generally results. Mason will have plenty of supporters here as he has relatives living in New Castle who have been singing his fistic praises. Niles fandom will travel here to see him go up or descend.

Should Be Fast

The U. S. Carpentier-Chet Smallwood match should be brimful of action. Carpentier is a 'heady' individual. Smallwood is a busybody. Due to his southpaw stance he may puzzle Carpentier for awhile, but Carp' believes he can win from the Akron blonde.

Young Vivio, Pittsburgh printer hopes to appease fans when he steps forth with Larry Madge, Cleveland. Madge is a newcomer. Vivio is a fast boy, but one who fights a heady, rather than a slugging bout. Madge is an aggressive, boring-in boxer, they say.

Bowl is Warm

Tommy Harris and Tommy Ward, Pittsburgh, rough preliminary fighters will step it off after Lloyd Tretretino, South Side and George Lawson, Falls street, clash in the first bout. The two preliminary battles are scheduled for four rounds each.

During the past week the heating system at the bowl has been improved. Fans blow warmth throughout the big bowl and no one should be uncomfortable. Parking facilities are to be had and indications point to a big crowd being present to see the boxing show.

Westminster To Play Allegheny Tuesday Night

Game At Meadville; To Play Geneva At Beaver Falls, Friday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 14.—With two victories in two starts to their credit, Coach John Lawther's Westminster college passers face two severe tests this week in games with the strong Allegheny and Geneva teams.

The Titans play Allegheny college at Meadville on Tuesday night and journey to Beaver Falls Friday night to the play the Covenanters.

Coach Baker at Allegheny has so much good material at the Methodist school this year that only one of last year's regulars, Captain Baird, has been able to make the varsity. Four freshmen players are on the team, which is considered one of the best in the district. Despite the fact that Westminster defeated the Methodists twice last year, the blue and white players are rather dubious about repeating the trick this season.

At Beaver Falls the strong Geneva team, one of the most likely conference leaders, will prove a snag to the United Presbyterians. Last year the Titans defeated the Titans at Beaver Falls in an easy fashion. A close game may be expected there Friday night. Geneva and Westminster are tied for the conference lead at present with one victory each and no defeats. Friday night's game will eliminate one of the contenders for the time being.

New Castle High At Youngstown On Friday Evening

Eleven Basketball Games Remain On 1928-29 Floor Schedule At Senior High

New Castle High school basketball team will not play at home this week. On Friday night, the only scheduled game of the entire week, the locals will go to Youngstown to battle the South High quintet. The game will be played at the Rayen-Wood auditorium.

Last year the South High team played the red and black in this city and took an 18 to 17 verdict in a fast game. The New Castle boys are anxious to atone for this defeat on Friday night.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today announced 11 games on the New Castle independent program for the remainder of the year:

January 18, South High, Youngstown, at Youngstown.
January 22, Butler High at New Castle.
January 26, New Castle at Erie East.
February 1, Ellwood City at New Castle.
February 5, New Castle at New Brighton.
February 9, Youngstown East at New Castle.
February 16, New Castle at Butler.
February 23, East High, Erie, at New Castle.
February 26, Farrell High at New Castle.
March 1, New Castle at Grove City.
March 2, Erie Central at New Castle.

Three Good Games In Boy's League

Three fast games were played in the Boy's League at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday afternoon. The Castles, Orioles and Indians were the winners.

The Castles downed the Acmes in an interesting game 21 to 19. Shaffer was the leading scorer with six buckets, Pollack, McLaughlin, and Smith also played a fine game.

In the tilt between the Orioles and Highland Troop the Orioles staged a runaway and final score was 33 to 18. Lewellan with eight baskets was high scorer, with Minnick and Herbold also caging the ball effectively.

The Indians swamped the Croton Scouts in the third game of the program 30 to 5. McKissock and Space were the featured players, with H. Smith and Soyring doing fine work.

Altoona High Quintet Tops New Castle 22-18

New Castle High Floor Team Nosed Out By Altoona In Fast Game Saturday Night

Altoona Stages Comeback In Second Half; Ostrosky-Thompson Stars Of Game

By "BUGS" WALTHER

ALTOONA high school basketball team, outplayed and outclassed by New Castle high floor team in the first two periods Saturday night at senior high gym, staged a rally in the second half that carried them through to a 22 to 18 victory. By virtue of their victory here the Altoona team evened up the series of games with the red and black quintet.

The visitors presented a strong team here in marked contrast to the combination that suffered a 24 to 14 defeat at the hands of New Castle high at Altoona earlier in the season. Coach Emanuel's tossers took quite some little time to get accustomed to the floor, and once they got their bearings, made things interesting.

Offensive Attack Poor.

New Castle high passers playing their second hard game in two nights showed to good advantage in the first two quarters, but their exhibition in the last half was miserable. The Blair countians had a clever passing system and also presented a formidable defense, holding New Castle to seven baskets, five of which were made in the first half.

The locals played the best brand of basketball in the first, holding Altoona to two field goals. Altoona made good four out of seven foul throws in the first half to stay in the race. Sillman and Ostrosky played their usual stellar brand of basketball for New Castle, holding the visiting forwards to three baskets. Captain Tony Ostrosky led New Castle in scoring with four baskets and one foul for nine of the New Castle points.

Altoona Well Balanced.

Thompson and McLaughlin proved to be the leading scorers for the invaders with 13 points between them. Altoona had a well balanced team and they are deserving of credit for the showing made here Saturday night on a perfectly "strange" court. The game was hard fought, but very clean throughout, with Referee Slack calling but 22 fouls.

"Tony" Ostrosky put the New Castle team in the lead in the first quarter after three minutes of the game had elapsed by dropping one through the hoops. Alexander went under the basket to give New Castle another two-pointer. Altoona took time out at this stage, when an Altoona player was hurt. McLaughlin caged a foul for the visitors for their first point. Thompson annexed a foul and Richardson followed suit. The score at the end of the first quarter was 4 to 3 in favor of the locals. The New Castle team misesd enough shots in the first quarter to win three games.

Locals Lead at Half.

Arthur Sillman sent the score to 5 to 3 with a foul at the start of the second quarter. Alexander caged the spheroid under the basket giving the New Castle team a 7 to 3 lead. Ostrosky followed with a basket that put the locals in a safe lead at 9 to 3. Wileman caged a foul for Altoona. Hannon replaced Johnson for New Castle. Ostrosky dropped one thru the basket from mid-court, making the count 11 to 4. McAuley replaced Cuba for New Castle. Weld caged the first basket for Altoona and Wileman duplicated just the second period concluded. The New Castle team led at the half, 11 to 8, mainly thru the fine work of Alexander and Captain Ostrosky. The Altoona team was starting to "get up steam" as the quarter ended.

At the start of the third quarter Johnson and Cuba replaced McAuley and Hannon for New Castle. McLaughlin gave the visitors hope by caging a foul that brought the score to 11 to 9. Thompson shot down the floor about midway and heaved one through the hoops that deadlocked the count at 11-11. McLaughlin sent one through the net that put Altoona in the lead at 13-11. Captain Ostrosky caged a foul for New Castle, and Thompson, McLaughlin and Weld in rapid succession sank baskets for Altoona. The third quarter ended with the Blair county quintet in the lead 19 to 12.

Visitors Maintain Pace.

New Castle hopes went soaring again midway of the fourth and final period when Cuba made good on a foul and Alexander caged a two-pointer under the basket. With the score 19 to 15 in favor of Altoona and with but four minutes left to play, the visitors took to playing a strong defensive game and New Castle had difficulty in getting near the hoops. Ostrosky sent the New Castle fans into a joyful mood by caging the ball from about the center of the court, the score now standing at 19 to 17 in favor of the Emanuel coached cohorts. Wileman caged a foul for Altoona and Thompson put the game "on ice" by a one-handed shot from near the foul line. Both teams were going at top speed when the whistle ended the game. Altoona was in the van 22 to 18. New Castle's last scoring effort was a foul throw by Sillman with less than a minute to play.

Al Slack, veteran Pittsburgh official, handled a fine game here Saturday night, calling them in a very impartial manner and winning favor with the crowd by his clear definition of each foul committed.

The summary:

New Castle 18		Altoona 22

James J. Braddock who knocked out Tuffy Griffith and Leo Lomski have been matched to fight at New York Friday night. Braddock's punch brought him the bout when he dropped Griffith.

Mac Smith captured the Los Angeles open golf championship in the final round of the $10,000 event. Tommy Armour got as far as the seventeenth hole and needed a par four for 289 at darkness.

Dr. Otto Peltzer, German middle distance runner was defeated by less than a yard at Berlin in a 1,000 meter race at the Sport Palace by another German, Hans Wichmann.

MANAGERS TO MEET

Tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock the various managers of the New Castle church basketball league will hold an important meeting in the Y. M. C. A., according to word today from Henry McNicholas at the local institution. All managers are asked to be present, as there is considerable important business to be transacted.

SORDS POINTS

They Hit for Themselves as Well as Others

There may be a few better pitchers in the big leagues than Fred "Red" Lucas, of the Cincinnati Reds, and George Uhle, who was sold this winter by the Cleveland Indians to the Detroit Tigers, but when it comes to hitting pitchers these two are in a class by themselves.

"Red" won more than one game for Cincinnati with a timely hit. Even as a member of the Boston Braves in 1924, Dave Bancroft, then manager, tried Lucas in the infield because of his hitting.

Uhle broke into a number of games with the Indians last year as a pinch hitter and delivered on a number of occasions. In practice before games in which George is not slated for mound duty he will always be seen in the outfield shagging flies. He hopes to become an outfielder when his pitching arm finally curls up.

The list of present infield and outfield stars who started their careers as pitchers is long. Babe Ruth, of course, is king of them all. Rube Bressler, "Goose" Goslin, Charley Jamieson, Bing Miller, Edgar Rice, George Sisler and Bill Terry are a few others whose first baseball thrill came in trying to throw a ball past the batter.

Third U. P. And Mahonings Win

Third U. P. Quintet Defeats Highland 25-17; Mahoning M. E. Downs First Baptists

The Third U. P. quintet defeated the Highland U. P. team 25 to 17 and the Mahoning M. E team nosed out the First Baptists 19 to 16 in church league games played at the Y. M. C. A. floor on Saturday night.

The Third U. P. team led at the end of the first half over the Highland U. P. team by a score of 16 to 4. Suber and Mansfield were the big scorers for the third U. P. team in the first half with Thomas caging the only field goal for Highland in the first half. The Highland team led by Jenkins and Rhodes played better basketball the second half and outscored the Third U. P. quintet 13 to 9 but the lead piled up by the Third U. P. in the first half carried them through.

The Baptist-Mahoning game was a real battle from start to finish with the Seventh warders nosing out a three point lead at the conclusion of th game. At the end of the first half the score favored the Baptists 9 to 4. The Mahoning team led by Goodhart, Uber and Wettich with seven baskets between them in the second half had the better of the argument and eked out their victory.

Mercer Whippets Here Tonight To Play Rick Motors

Three Fast Games On Bill Tonight At "Y." Floor; Hartman Brothers On Opposite Teams

FIRST GAME TO START AT EIGHT

Tonight at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A., the basketball fans of New Castle will be given a rare treat. Three fast fames are on tap. The featured game is the Rick Motors against the Mercer Whippets.

In the first game the First Methodist team and the Temple Israel team will battle in a church league affair. The Temples are favored to win tonight and thus remain deadlocked with the Central Christians for the leadership.

The second game brings the Lincolns and Castletons together in a city league game. The Lincolns should win this game with ease over the Hotelmen and thus remain runnersup to the Rick Motors for the leadership of the circuit.

College Stars in Lineup.

The main game should be a humdinger. The powerful Mercer Whippets with Joe Hartman, former Grove City college star and former New Castle high athlete, in the lineup, and McMeekin and Kelly, former Westminster men; Bost, formerly of Thiel, and Ashbaugh, formerly with the Pitt team, will give the Rick Motors a stiff tussle.

It will brother against brother tonight when Andy Hartman and Joe Hartman oppose each other on their respective teams. Both Joe and Andy played at Grove City college and were real stars. Joe Hartman is now coach of Grove City high school. The Ricks will have in their lineup some of the best known of New Castle's basketball players, including Arnold "Fiz" Fraser, "Jewie" Coen, Genkinger, Volesko, Nolte and Nocera.

The Mercer Whippets lost to Westminster this year by a close score and hold a victory over Thiel college. The game tonight shapes up as one of the best of the local basketball season here.

Tri-State College Games This Week

Westminster and Allegheny college basketball teams will play Tuesday night at New Wilmington. Other college games scheduled follow:

Monday—Geneva at Waynesburg.

Tuesday—Allegheny at Westminster.

Wednesday—Marshall college at West Virginia.

Friday—West Virginia at Pitt, Westminster at Geneva, Bethany at Ashland, Allegheny at Grove City, Penn State at Georgetown.

Saturday—Duquesne at Thiel, Bethany at John Carroll, Penn State at Navy.

THE BETTER MAN?

Preacher—You must conquer yourself. I conquered myself when I was about your age.

Jones—Well, you see, parson, I'm a harder man to lick than you are.—Life.

In view of the American craze for speed in everything, however inconsequental, it is strange no one has thought to try golf on roller skates.

Dempsey Offered New York Battle

Charles A. Stoneham Offers Dempsey Bout At Polo Grounds This Summer

FITZSIMMONS IS TO BE PROMOTER

By DAVID J. WALSH,
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Not wishing to prattle needlessly about other people's business or anything like that, but the fact of the matter is that Jack Dempsey today is in a receipt of a definite bid from Charles A. Stoneham to fight for the heavyweight championship at the Polo grounds this summer. Mr. Stoneham may be indentified as the man who first discovered that the New York Giants could bear up very manfully without Rogers Hornsby.

The offer was carried to Dempsey as he passed through town on Saturday night by Floyd Fitzsimmons, who may be identified as the confidential man in the Dempsey camp; also as the promoter, in name at least, of the Dempsey-Miske championship fight at Benton Harbor, Michigan. Fitzsimmons was suspected at the time of promoting on Kearns and Dempsey money but that merely goes to show how snugly the hook-up may fit. Dempsey is believed to have exercised a sort of patrimony over Fitz these many years.

As for Stoneham, it is evident that he either hasn't been reading the theorists very closely or he firmly believes that you can't rule a guy off for trying. In any case, Fitzsimmons was booked to make a late train out of town on Thursday night but something must have happened because the poor fellow missed it.

Church Bowling Schedule For Week

For some reason the church bowling schedule which was printed Saturday contained several errors and the schedule for the coming week is run again. It follows:

Monday, First Baptist and Temple Israel; Tuesday, Croton M. E. and Central Presbyterian; Thursday, Mahoning M. E. and Central Christians; Friday, First M. E. and Grace M. E.

Rick Motors And Lincolns Winners In City Circuit

Rick Motors Defeat Castletons 37 to 11; Lincolns Down Knickerbockers 31-13

The Rick Motors and Lincolns were winners in the City League basketball games played at the Y. M. C. A. court on Saturday night.

The Castletons failed to give the powerful Rick Motors team much opposition in their encounter. The final score was 37 to 11. The Ricks led 12 to 4 at the end of the first half. In the second half of the game the Ricks, led by Nocera and Hartman, ran up a big lead over the Hotelmen.

In the Lincolns-Knickerbocker game which ended 31 to 13, the Lincolns were superior throughout the battle. At the end of the first half the Lincolns led, 20 to 3, mainly through the fine work of McClelland and Uhle. Sargent was the only Knickerbocker player to tally a field goal in the first half. The Lincolns outscored the Knickerbockers, 11 to 10, in the second half.

Paul Hoskins, former New Castle boy, now a student at W. & J., and a member of the Presidents' varsity basketball team, home for a short stay, handled the games as referee and turned in a fine job.

A Rare Ol' Timer of the Track

By QUIN HALL.

WHEN the annual Winter racing season got under way down in Havana the middle of December, "Pop" Cheek started his ninetieth year of track activity. "Pop" is the oldest living turfman in the world and last July he celebrated his 103rd birthday.

A picturesque figure known wherever the bangtails are piloted around the course by silk clad jockeys, "Pop" probably looks more like Santa Claus than Santa Claus does himself. With twinkling eyes and a slightly red nose, "Pop" carries himself as erect as a two-year-old colt and gets around with almost the same amount of agility. Constantly smoking a pipe, he wears a tightly buttoned, slightly faded coat and white denim trousers. An old battered soft hat and a pair of shoes almost as heavy as trench brogans complete a picture which makes "Pop" an outstanding figure wherever horse racing is being conducted. His four great passions are racing, smoking, cockfighting and drinking hard liquor.

"Pop"—christened Thomas—was born in Virginia during the month of July, 1825. The exact date has slipped his memory as have the names of some of the horses which he has trained and raced during his long career on the track. But he loves the bangtail racket and is trying his luck this Winter with a two-horse stable at Oriental Park where he can get his hard liquor and his cock fighting right out in the open. In the Summer months he campaigns through the tracks in the United States and during his lifetime he has worked on most of th etracks in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The Cheek string now consists of Basha, a six-year-old gelding by Royal II.—Some Kid and Alicia Long, a daughter of The Manager and Ruth Carter. He always lives right in the stable with his breadwinners and always has a flock of chickens for company. He does most of the work around the stable and only regrets that age has increased his weight to such a degree that he can no longer gallop his horses in their morning exercise.

"Pop's" greatest love was for Red, a chestnut gelding by Peep o' Day—Mary Michaels. For a good many years "Pop" and Red were together campaigning the half-mile tracks of the country. It may have been bush league stuff in the eyes of the elite racing world, but it was sport and fare to "Pop" and Red. In those days it was only a one-horse stable that Cheek had, but Red made up with his ability what the stable lacked in number.

The story is told that some years ago the management at Thistledown Park in Cleveland decided it was about time for a "Pop" Cheek Day. Red was in great form and the day chosen for the celebration in honor of "Pop" was the day on which Red was to start his season at Thistledown. It looked as if Red had a chance to win his event and he was properly prepped for the occasion by his owner. The morning of "Pop" Cheek Day, "Pop" received word that his son—then eighty years old—had died. Red didn't start and the horse and owner spent the day together in the stable.

A year or so ago Red dropped dead while working out and it remains one of the bitterest blows in the life of a man who must have had plenty of bitter blows after following the track for ninety years.

But "Pop" still likes racing. His horses may not win every time they go to the post, but he is always trying and the boys who are following the racing in Cuba this Winter are all hoping that "Pop" will have extra good luck with his two-horse string this season. After ninety years he deserves the best there is on the menu.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Most of the leaders in last week's advance in prices were pushed along a point or two in a fairly active market this morning. The bulls in United States Steel, Studebaker and in Briggs, as well as the high-priced aeroplane stocks continued to buy their favorites with both hands, holding them squarely above the prices prevailing at the close of Saturday's market. Steel and Studebaker moved up about a point and Wright Aero 4 points in the first half hour. Chrysler and General Motors sold off about a point.

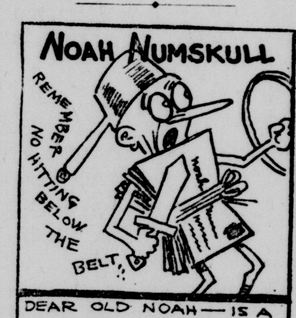

U. S. Steel rose brilliantly to above 167. Bethlehem which has been a good running mate for "big steel", sold above 87, but the demand was not large. Radio-Keith-Orpheum and Columbia Graphaphone were boosted a few points on reports of special developments in the talkie branch of the amusement industry.

Stock of the bread and biscuit-baking companies were active and strong in the second hour.

Missing Farmer Reported Roams Somerset County

Farmer Missing Since December 7 Claimed To Have Raided Several Hog Stys

MANY YOUNG HOGS HAVE BEEN STOLEN

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Jan. 14.—Harry Wilburn, 45, Stewart Township farmer, who disappeared strangely on December 7, last, is believed to be roaming the mountains in the vicinity of Ursina, Somerset county.

It is believed that he has raided several farms for food. At the farm of J. L. Reams he was seen to carry away a 50-pound pig, which he beat to death. In his haste to escape with the pig he left his rifle and a sack containing salt and pepper and a cooked pig's tail. Reams, who was awakened by the squeals of the hogs, arrived in time to see the stranger disappear in the mountains.

At the mountain cabin of William Lewis, Wilburn appeared and changed his clothing, leaving behind a tattered blue suit which he wore at the time of his disappearance, anothed pair of well worn trousers and a burlap sack which he had wrapped around him.

He built a fire in a vegetable hamper in the middle of the floor of the cabin, where a big fire was going in a stove. He cooked bacon on the fire he had made and after taking some of Lewis' clothes he disappeared.

Half a dozen farmers in that section have reported young hogs stolen.

WITHOUT STATE CAPITOL WEST VIRGINIA SEEKS ONE

Having been without a state capitol since 1921, when the old building in Charleston, shown above, left, was destroyed by fire, an effort is being made to have the state legislature at its next session raise a fund to complete the partially constructed new building. Upper right shows the two completed wings of the new capitol. Below is an architect's drawing of the proposed structure.

Order Furniture For Library Branch

Furniture which includes shelving, desks and a swivel chair has been ordered by the New Castle public library for the new branch which will be situated on the east side, states Alice M. Sterling, librarian.

Shelving has been ordered to accommodate 1500 or 2000 books which will be placed in the new branch library when it is opened.

At the present date, it is not known when the exact time of opening will occur. Due to the illness of library staff members, the work on ordering of books and materials has been retarded.
